17 Are Dead or Missing

Midwest States Are Hard Hit By Ravages of Flood Waters

Seventeen persons were dead or missing and more thousands were homeless today as the most damaging floods in years swept over three midwest states.

Human misery rose in the flood areas of North Dakota, Minnesota and Nebraska. Scores of communities were isolated as the surging waters from rain-swollen rivers and streams spilled out over thousands of acres of land.

Across the border in southern Manitoba, the flood crisis mounted. The homeless was some 15,000, and another 10,000 faced evacuation.

All the fatalities were in Nebraska. One of the worst floods in nearly 50 years struck the southeastern section of the state yesterday. Seven bodies had been recovered. Hope was abandoned for the other 10 missing persons.

The flash floods that hit southeast Nebraska followed downpours earlier in the week. The waves of water engulfed homes and swept cars from highways. Most of the dead were highway travelers caught by the floodwaters.

Saved by Hanging To Trees
Seven or eight passengers in a Burlington bus enroute from Nebraska City to Lincoln were caught in a crushing wave of water on a highway near Unadilla. Three passengers survived by hanging to trees. Four Nebraska City persons lost their lives when their car was swept from a highway near Auburn by floodwaters.

The flooding Red river, bordering North Dakota and Minnesota, dealt further devastating blows to property and livestock. The Red Cross reported more families driven from their homes all along the swollen Red river.

The livestock situation in North Dakota was described as "desperate." Gov. Fred G. Aandahl ordered an aerial livestock feeding service started today.

Asked To Move Out

WINNIPEG, Man., May 10—(AP)—Women and children were asked today to move out of stricken Winnipeg, threatened—by the ever rising waters of the ram-paging Red river.

Brig. R. E. A. Norton, flood relief controller, said the appeal was issued in an attempt to relieve overtaxed city facilities. He emphasized it was an appeal and not an order.

His action came as the Royal Canadian Mounted Police prepared to remove remaining residents along the Red river from greater Winnipeg to the U. S. border, 60 miles south.

Morton's appeal to "non-combatants" to leave this city was a move to lighten the burden of those remaining behind to fight the rising flood. He called the action a proposal to effect "a thinning out of the city." Greater Winnipeg has a population of 350,000.

The flooded river already has cut all railways and highways in the valley as far south as the international line. None could predict how much higher the river would rise. This already was the greatest flood in Canada's modern history.

Winnipeg already is menaced by the possibility of disrupted utilities and transportation services. Refugees pouring in from the hard-hit suburban areas, doubling the population in some Winnipeg districts, pose still another threat.

The Canadian Pacific railway suspended operations on its line until the flood subsides. The last train went over the line last night. Other rail lines were severed a few days ago. Highways have been cut in dozens of places.

Employment Shows Pickup

JEFFERSON CITY, May 10—(AP)—Employment picked up in Missouri during March, the State Employment Security Division reported.

Director Charles A. Ricker said an estimated 1,013,100 workers had non-agricultural jobs that month—a gain of 7,800 over February. The total was 1.1 per cent less than in March, 1949.

Manufacturing employment gained 2,400 during March while non-manufacturing jobs increased by 5,400—much of it in the construction field where 2,600 jobs were added during the month.

Add 103 New Members to Sedalia C. of C.

President Tweet Says Drive One Of The Best Ever

The one-day Chamber of Commerce membership drive held Tuesday ended with an additional 103 memberships added to that organization an trophies, which were small plaques with cowboy hats mounted on the were presented to the members of the winning team headed by Abe Silverman.

Mayor Herb Studer was high point man and was presented the individual award which was a larger plaque of the same type. The presentation of the awards both to Mr. Studer and to other members of the team was made by Noel Tweet, president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce.

Spring Roundup
The drive was conducted on the western idea as the Spring Roundup, and the team winning was the Circle R-Ranch. Members of the team were Abe Silverman, foreman, Mayor Herb Studer, Dan Doty, Lee Deason and Bob Wall, who is president of the newly organized Junior Chamber of Commerce. Points were given for memberships and for money turned in with the winning team having a total of 1317 points, and of that number Mayor Studer had 507 points.

Noel Tweet stated that the drive was a huge success and one of the best the Chamber of Commerce ever had. It looks encouraging for the future of Sedalia, he said.

"Everyone seemed to enjoy the drive," said Mayor Studer, "and it is encouraging to note that the people of Sedalia are taking an interest in the Chamber of Commerce." He urged all who have not become members to do so for the building of a bigger and better Sedalia.

According to John F. Zander secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, the total membership of the Chamber of Commerce now is 560 members.

At Prudential Conference

Twenty-three members of the Prudential Insurance company's district office here are attending a two-day business conference which opens in St. Louis today.

Besides Hugo M. Sparr, district manager, the sedalia group is composed of five staff managers and 17 agents. Included in this delegation are representatives from Jefferson City, Moberly, Columbia and Marshall, where the district maintains branch offices.

The St. Louis conference brings together top-level home office officials and almost 600 fieldmen from company district offices in north central states areas. Topics slated for discussion include present day sales techniques and current underwriting practices.

Valentine Howell, Prudential executive vice president will address the delegates. Talks will also be given by other home office executives and fieldmen.

Killed When Hit by Auto
POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., May 10—(AP)—Ronald Dale Mallady, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mallady, was instantly killed last night when struck by an automobile.

Pooling Plan Is Proposed

France Advances it As Applied to Coal And Steel

By the Associated Press

Western diplomats in London for the opening tomorrow of a Big Three foreign ministers conference today hailed France's proposal to pool Europe's coal and steel as a blueprint for peace.

Integration of Germany's economy into that of western Europe is the major problem of the forthcoming conference. Diplomats said the French proposal to pool the output of heavy industries starting with France and Germany might be a possible solution to this main cold war riddle.

There were indications the west German government would accept the proposal made by the French cabinet yesterday. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called it: "A generous step by France towards Germany."

Adenauer said the plan appeared to "create the pre-conditions for making any future conflict between France and Germany impossible."

Simultaneously Adenauer announced the west German cabinet has accepted an invitation for west Germany to enter the Council of Europe as an associate member. It would have an advisory status in the council's assembly but would not be presented on the controlling committee of foreign ministers.

Western diplomats in London for the conference of American British and French foreign ministers hailed the French and German announcements as important steps to bolster western Europe economically and politically against any Communist threat.

Has Pooling Plan
The French plan to pool coal and steel output was announced by Foreign Minister Robert Schuman in Paris 24 hours after he talked with U. S. Secretary of State Acheson. Observers said the United States was certain to approve the plan and may have done so already during the Acheson-Schuman talks.

Demand Truman Cut Tour Short

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson today demanded that President Truman cut short his speaking tour and return to Washington immediately to seek a settlement of the four-system rail strike.

He issued this statement: "The railroads are the economic bloodstream of our nation. Four of our great transportation systems are paralyzed by a strike. A fifth is harassed and slowed down by President Truman's special train."

"It is the duty of the president to return immediately to the White House. He should use the power and prestige of his office to bring about a peaceful settlement of this costly tie-up of transportation."

"I hope he will find some other method than his 1946 suggestion that he be given dictatorial powers to draft strikers into the army."

Gold Seekers Dig For Yellow Metal at Belle

BELLE, Mo., May 10—(AP)—Spurred by an old legend, a group of believers—and some skeptics—are digging for gold on the Earl Carter farm near this community of 900 persons.

Edward Adams of the Adams Brothers Drilling company, Owensville, Mo., operating the drill, reported this morning he had encountered a rock formation different from any he has ever seen.

The Carter farm, two miles east of Belle, once was owned by the late Fritz Lehnhoff. According to the legend, Lehnhoff was sinking an artesian well and hit rock strata specked with gold and silver at 160 feet. That was about 60 years ago.

Lehnhoff had some of the rock analyzed by a nephew in Denver, the story goes, and he reported back that it was gold, the real thing. Lehnhoff was reported to have continued his farming after saying: "Probably nothing there. I'm not going to monkey with it."

Appoint A. L. Bohling New Postmaster

Official Notice By Postmaster General

Atwell L. Bohling, president of Central Business College, has been appointed acting postmaster of the Sedalia post office by Postmaster General J. M. Donaldson.

Mr. Bohling was notified of his appointment in the following letter received Wednesday morning:

"Office of the Postmaster General, Washington 25, D. C. May 8, 1950

"Mr. A. L. Bohling, Sedalia, Missouri

"Dear Mr. Bohling: Under the provisions of the Act approved June 25, 1938, you have been appointed acting postmaster at the above named office.

"It is important that you have the enclosed bond and oath executed immediately after assuming charge of the office and returned without delay to the Bureau of the First Assistant Postmaster General.

"A post office inspector will communicate with you and arrange for your installation and the transfer of the office should not be made until the inspector calls.

"Very truly yours, (Signed) J. M. Donaldson Postmaster General"

Vacancy in the office of Sedalia postmaster was caused by the recent death of Postmaster Edw. Mullahey.

Congressional representative G. H. Christopher recommended to the post office department in Washington the appointment of Mr. Bohling.

Man Trapped in Shaft Out Dead

NEW YORK, May, 10—(AP)—Rescuers reached Dominick Atteio too late today at the bottom of a caved-in well shaft where he had been imprisoned for about 26 hours. He had died five minutes before.

Atteio's body was slid into the rescue trench where the doctor was waiting.

A hush fell over the watching crowd as Doctor Harold Berson walked slowly back along the rescue trench wiping sweat from his face and shaking his head.

Farmer Is Killed By Dynamite Blast

KENNETT, Mo., May 10—(AP)—James Rogers, a 31-year-old farmer near here, was killed yesterday when a dynamite charge he was handling exploded unexpectedly.

Rogers and a companion were blasting stumps from a road right off of way when one of the charges failed to explode. Rogers went to examine the charge while the other man ran for safety, assuming Rogers also was fleeing. He turned in time to see Rogers blown into the air by the blast, Dunklin county coroner Walter Hawkins said.

The victim leaves his widow and one child.

John F. Zander Will Be Kiwanis Speaker

LONDON, May 10—(AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson met King George VI today in a private audience. Later he and Mrs. Acheson were guests of King George and Queen Elizabeth at lunch.

Strike By Firemen On Four Big Rail Lines Slows Transportation

Appointed

Atwell L. Bohling, who today received official notification from Postmaster General Donaldson of his appointment as acting postmaster at the Sedalia post office.

Highest Since August

NEW YORK, May 10—(AP)—Wholesale food prices as measured in the Dun and Bradstreet index this week reached the highest level since last August.

The index advanced to $89 from $84 a week ago and was 3.7 per cent above the year-ago level of $86.8.

The figure this week was the same as that for the weeks ended Aug. 9 and 16 last year. The peak before that was $59.1 on Jan. 25, 1949.

The record high posted by the index since it was started 34 years ago was $7.36 on July 13, 1948.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Service From Coast to Coast Crippled; Pickets At Key Points

CHICAGO, May 10—(AP)—A strike of railroad firemen crippled the nation's rail network today and within a few hours mediators abandoned hope of quick settlement.

Francis A. O'Neil, chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board said "We've given up."

He added that a report on the deadlock will be submitted to Washington.

The board had tried in continuous sessions since 9 p. m. CDT last night to reach some agreement.

Asked what the next step would be, O'Neil replied: "I can not say until we make our report to Washington." He added: "We have been unable to get anywhere. For the last three or four days we have been working on a 'package' deal with the brotherhood. He declined to say what the 'package' contained.

Hit Key Systems

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, one of the five big operating unions, struck against four key systems in the nation's rail network at 6 a. m. local standard time today. Their walkout was to enforce demands for hiring a second fireman on multiple diesel unit locomotives. The railroads, whose contention had been upheld by presidential fact finding boards, maintained this constituted "made work" and that as the second fireman would not be needed on a diesel which has no fire to tend.

The brotherhood insisted the man should be added as a safety measure. Union leaders said their men were being disciplined continually for leaving the locomotive cab to tend engines in another unit of the locomotive. They claimed this meant the carriers expected one fireman to be in two places at once.

Before O'Neil mentioned the "package" deal, Roob Allie, secretary of the Michigan Association of Railroads, said he was informed all demands of the brotherhood had been settled except one for assignment of a fireman to switchers of less than 90,000 pounds.

O'Neil said no further sessions were scheduled and added: "If either side wants to resume talks they can notify me."

The New York Central, one of the trunk lines, uses a fireman on such engines now. The Pennsylvania does not. Other lines the walkout are the Southern whose operations are crippled by railway, serving the south, and the Santa Fe, a principal carrier between Chicago and the Pacific coast.

At least one other railroad was drawn into the crippling action indirectly. The Chesapeake and Ohio railway announced some cancellation of service because union members refused to run C. & O. trains on tracks shared with trunk lines.

Pickets representing the 18,000 firemen on strike appeared at key points.

The firemen's brotherhood used a creeping technique in putting their strike into effect. It started at 6 a. m. in local standard time zones, the east feeling it first. An hour later firemen in the central time belt went out; an hour later those in the mountain zone.

At 6 a. m. Pacific time—or 9 a. m. in the eastern zone—the walkout extended over its full course, the nation's first major railroad strike since May, 1946.

Trips on Competing Lines
The tactic of singling out four principal carriers inconvenienced, but did not strand, the traveling public. Trains on runs at the time of the strike's zero hour continued on to their terminals.

Travelers between major terminal cities could make their trips on competing lines. Those relying on local service of the stricken lines had to switch to buses or other modes of transport.

Big freight customers transferred their shipping from the stricken lines to alternate systems.

In anticipation of the strike, the four railroads announced stringent service curtailments. And, they said, further cuts in their schedules were planned.

The New York Central and the Santa Fe, two of the four roads singled out for the strike, planned to keep some main line passenger trains in operation. The other two, the Pennsylvania and the Southern railway, said no trains would be run in the strike-affected areas.

Urge on Bill For Curb on Rail Strikes

Donnell Declares Need Emphasized By Walkout

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—Senator Donnell (R-Mo.) said today the walkout of 18,000 firemen on four major railroads "emphasizes the need" for his bill to outlaw rail strikes.

"In my opinion," Donnell said, "it indicates the fact that this bill should receive prompt consideration by Congress."

Donnell talked to reporters as a Senate Labor subcommittee resumed hearings on his measure to force compulsory arbitration of railroad and airline disputes. It would ban lockouts and strikes.

A few hours before the committee met, firemen started their strike on the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Santa Fe and Southern railways systems.

Harry E. De Butts, vice president of the Southern, told the committee the strike would have a "disastrous effect on the public interest." He urged approval of the Donnell bill.

De Butts predicted the walkout would cause "untold loss of property and production" in areas served by the four lines and bring "the terror of starvation and disease to great numbers of citizens." Also, he said, it would leave this country "almost helpless under attack of a foreign enemy."

Layoff For Thousands

De Butts said the strike, called by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, would "inevitably stop" operation of Southern's service in 13 states and result in the laying off of about 35,000 of the lines employees.

An official of the New York Central railroad told the committee Monday that his firm would have to furlough 50,000 workers if the strike developed.

C. A. Miller, vice president and general counsel of the American Short Line Railroad association also was called to testify today before the committee.

Urging support of the anti-strike measure, Miller said in a prepared statement that the union was "seeking to compel the railroads to yield to their demands for a useless second fireman x x x in the face of the fact that two separate and distinct emergency boards appointed by the president have thoroughly investigated the subject and decided that there is no merit to the demands of the union."

"If a union can call a paralyzing strike under such circumstances as these," Miller said, "then not only has the Railway Labor Act failed, but the nation has failed."

In the future, he said, "we are going to use the energy for the development of mankind, not for destruction."

He said if we lack the ingenuity to do that we "probably ought to be destroyed."

Some one called for Mrs. Truman and Margaret. "You wouldn't expect Bess and Margaret to be up this early would you?" the president asked.

Police Lieut. C. C. Evans estimated the audience here at 1,000. Pocatello is the home town of Sen. Taylor (D-Idaho) who, however, was in Boise. Taylor announced several days ago he was invited to ride the president's train through Idaho, but the president denied it. Taylor has opposition in the Democratic primary.

Cold War "To Continue"
ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN, May 10—(AP)—President Truman acted today to bolster the nation's atomic strength as he held out the grim prospect that the cold war with Russia will continue "for a long, long time."

He disclosed, in a speech at Pocatello, Idaho, the signing of the National Science Foundation Act. He said it will keep the United States ahead in scientific developments and help it "exert a more vital force for peace."

"Some of the oldtimers have been hearing about Fritz's gold all their lives—and they really believe we'll hit it rich," said Gallagher.

What does the editor himself think about their chances for finding gold?
"I'd say it's not probable, but it's possible," Gallagher said. "We're just having a lot of fun. 'But you never know.'"

Temperature: 7 a. m. 52 degrees; 2 p. m. 66 degrees.

Why just listen to reasons?
COME SEE FOR YOURSELF!

THIS TIME we'd like to tell you about something that you cannot see in this picture—something, in fact, you cannot know about from looking at someone else in a passing Buick—or from viewing a Buick on our showroom floor.

It's the feel you get from a Buick in motion.

You are going to find out that it is something like traveling on your own private, jet-propelled cloud—only firmer.

Maybe you know a stretch of wash-board road, where you have to slow down, or bounce and jitter.

Try that in a Buick and see how you keep a level, comfortable boulevard smoothness.

Maybe you're always on edge to dodge dips and chuckholes. Those also lose most of their jolt when you're at the wheel of a Buick—or in the rear seat.

In a few simple words—the ride of any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—is out of this world.

We could give you a lot of reasons. Soft coil springs on all four wheels, for example—the firm linkage of the torque-tube drive—the distribution of weight—big soft tires on wide rims—the way Buick engines are mounted.

Even Dynaflo Drive*—always silky-smooth and free of geared-drive harshness—plays its part in the marvelous Buick ride.

But why simply listen to reasons? Experience is still the best teacher.

Come see for yourself why the Buick ride is called "matchless"—and how little it costs to replace a jitterbuggy with one of these level-striding honeyes.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

A group of relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Oehrke on Sunday, May 7, to help Mr. Oehrke celebrate his birthday anniversary.

A basket dinner was served at the noon hour and the afternoon was spent in conversation and taking pictures.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Semkin, Dennis, Kathryn and Eunice Semkin, Miss Gladys Zimmerschied, Mrs. Ephod Paulwell and Sonny, Mrs. Elsie Casdorph and Earl Boyd, all of Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Oehrke and Joyce Ann, Nadine, Patricia Ann and LaDonna June Blakesley and Charles Hopkins, of Ottumwa; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Neidergerke and sons, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Drinkard, of Fulton; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Oehrke and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Homan and family, Conrad Oehrke and Mr. and Mrs. Oehrke and son, Bobby, all of Florence.

A son, Cecil, who has employment in Stockton, Kas., was unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Roe B. Vincent, 1511 West Main street, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Olive to Mr. Louis Reine, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reine, route 5, Sedalia.

The marriage will take place on June 25 at the Reorganized Latter Saints church.

Mrs. Ford E. Allcorn, of Fort Leavenworth, Kas., entertained today with a luncheon and bathroom shower for Miss Dorothy Ann Garrett at the Palm Room of the Hotel Bothwell. Miss Garrett will be married in June to Mr. Robert T. Alexander, of St. Louis.

Guests were: Miss Dorothy Ann Garrett, Mrs. Ellis Garrett, Mrs. Thomas E. Alexander, Mrs. Bill Bodine, Miss Rae Carolyn Garrett, Miss Eleanor Oversby, Miss Mary Ann Hilderbrandt, Miss Vivian McAtee, Miss Dorothy Williams and Miss Lois Green.

Mrs. Allcorn was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Elmo Harlan.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Crouch, of Mora, were pleasantly surprised Sunday, April 30, when their family and friends held open house for them in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tier wedding cake decorated with silver leaves and beads and white roses with a silver and white ornament, symbolic of the day, on top. On either side were lighted white tapers in silver holders.

White flowers in silver baskets were used throughout the home. Mrs. Crouch was presented with a corsage of gardenias tied with silver ribbon and Mr. Crouch with a white carnation.

After taking pictures and opening gifts the honorees cut the cake with a knife used for similar occasions by the Crouch family for several generations.

Refreshments of cake, ice cream in silver May baskets, mints and coffee were served.

A special song was sung by a nephew, Larry Wayne Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Copes, the attendants at the wedding were unable to be present for the anniversary, but sent regrets and a gift.

Miss Edna G. Campbell and Mr. Roy W. Crouch were married May 1, 1925, by the Rev. A. K. Kokendoffer at Sedalia. They are the parents of two children, Kenneth E. Crouch, 914 West Fourth street and Cpl. Cecil C. Crouh, of Army Engineers, at Fort Winfield Scott, San Francisco, Calif. They have one grandson, Kieth William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crouch.

The Ladies Society of the B. of L. E. lodge No. 225, which was to have met Thursday afternoon at 114½ East Fifth street, motored to New Franklin that day where the members were guests of the New Franklin lodge No. 12. A chicken dinner was served at the noon hour after which they attended the meeting of lodge 12. Those making the trip were Mrs. Charley Spillers, Mrs. Russell Overfelt, Mrs. Raymond Hunt, Mrs. L. N. Yunker, Mrs. Virgil Tucker, Mrs. Jay Nicholson, Sr., Mrs. Harry Weseloh, Mrs. J. B. O'Brien, Mrs. Eddie Deuel, Mrs. Chester Long, Mrs. Leland Witt, Mrs. James Doty, Mrs. Abe Brownfield, Mrs. Roy Hamey, Mrs. J. W. Murrell and Mrs. Waterfield, who is a member of lodge 12, but at the present is residing in Sedalia.

Mrs. Bud McCowan and Miss Mary Alice Dexheimer entertained with a miscellaneous shower Friday night at the home of the latter, 1608 South Missouri, in honor of Miss Ruth Miller who is to be married next month.

Miss Miller received many useful gifts. The employees of Interstate Studio where she has been employed for the past six years, also presented her with a gift.

Guests other than the honor guest were: Mrs. Bob Hopkins, Mrs. Narvil Bopp, Mrs. A. W. Buhlig, Mrs. Charles Burk, Mrs. Leo Burlette, Mrs. Howard Christie, Mrs. Kenneth Crouch, Mrs. Mac Crafton, Mrs. Al Domingue, Mrs. Harry Goosen and daughter Joyce, Mrs. Wallace Hinson, Mrs. Dorothy Huffman, Mrs. Paul Hagemeier, Mrs. O. Hook, Miss Jewel Housel, Mrs. Hildegarde Johnson, Mrs. Kenneth Keele, Miss Ethel Kullman, Mrs. Lawrence Mergen, Mrs. H. L. Overmier, Mrs. B. H. Russell, Mrs. Ted Simon, Mrs. Minnie I. Snyder, Mrs. Mike Sullivan, Miss Irene Vaughan, Mrs. Maurice Wasson, Mrs. C. W. Wicker, Mrs. Jim Yeager, Mrs. George Zuroweste, Mrs. McCowan, and Miss Dexheimer.

Those who sent gifts but were unable to attend were: Mrs. William Cecil, Mrs. Melvin Dexheimer, Mrs. Guy Snyder, Mrs. Joe Griffith, Mrs. William Hieronymus, Mrs. J. D. McFarland, Mrs. Leo Nold, Miss Edna Siefner, Miss Martha Scott and Mrs. Gertrude Schilb.

The evening was spent in visiting. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round Trygve Lie Fears Collapse Of United Nations

By Drew Pearson

(The Brass Ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, today goes to Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, now on an important mission to Moscow.)

WASHINGTON, May 10—Shortly before Trygve Lie left New York on his current mission to Moscow, President Truman had announced that the world looked better — a statement which Truman reiterated last week. And Trygve Lie, talking privately to a friend immediately afterward, said:

"I am glad they (the press) did not ask me to comment on President Truman's statement yesterday that the world situation is better than in 1946."

For the secretary-general of the United Nations thinks the world situation is in a very dangerous state — not because of an immediate threat of war but because the U. N. is threatened for its very life. This is the reason for his trip to Moscow.

"I am going to tell them," he told a friend before he left, "what do you want to do about the United Nations; we must decide now, because in another six or eight months if the deadlock is not broken, this organization will collapse."

Lie added that he thinks the Soviets recognize that their walkout has been a blunder, just as the Berlin blockade was a blunder. But Russia is a big power and it cannot extricate itself from this situation without some face-saving. Here he made a little circle with his thumb and forefinger, and peeped through it, and said:

"Some little peephole — just some little peephole."

Since then the search for the peephole has been made by Lie, the British foreign office and the French. The final result now depends on Lie's talks in Moscow.

Cornerstone Layer
Most Americans think of Trygve Lie as a stout, cornerstone-laying character, with a heavy Scandinavian accent, who does something or other at the United Nations.

This vagueness is partly Lie's fault. He has operated for four years on the conviction that the secretary-general of the U. N. should keep out of controversy. But he has changed in the last few months. Lie is now displaying some of the fire he used to display when, at 16, he became a local president of the Norwegian Labor party — or the kind of fire he displays now on a Long Island tennis court when the score is six games to six and he wants to break the deadlock.

For, in these last months of his five-year term as secretary-general, Lie is determined to break the deadlock of the cold war. He is throwing his old caution to the winds. He doesn't care any more whether he has the support of the state department.

Actually, he has lost it. Inside fact is that the state department tried to sidetrack his mission to Moscow.

As a European, and especially as ex-premier of a country with a long border adjoining Russia, Lie is fearfully worried. He thinks the policy on both sides — names-calling and arms-building — will lead to an eye-for-an-eye and a bomb-for-a-bomb. And his strategy is to try to knock together the heads of what European delegates call "Les Deux Grands"—"The Two Bigs."

For a long time he has been working behind the scenes with the skill of the best Washington lobbyist. On day, he whisks the Cuban delegate off to lunch at the Lites' Long Island home. Next day he makes a private appointment to meet a British or French delegate at the Manhattan headquarters of U. N. — where talks are more unobserved than at or near Lake Success.

And the next day, a Polish or Ukrainian delegate for dinner — possibly mixing them with some of the New York City officials in talk about the headquarters building.

Guests who meet Lie in his own home, or at a private dinner, find him a great surprise. He is not the fence-sitting diplomat he seems to be in public. He talks with candor. He even expresses vigorous opinions about such things as "the dark combination of votes" that forced through the internationalization of Jerusalem.

Lie said at the time that he had never seen such a combination — of Catholics, Communists and Arabs — which rammed through a decision that he regarded as unworkable. He said he decided this after having talked with the U. N. military expert, Gen. William Riley, who, though himself a Catholic, reported that it would be impossible to make Jerusalem international without force.

Started as Office Boy
Now 53 years old, the secretary-general of the United Nations was born in Oslo, the son of a carpenter. His first job was as an office boy in the headquarters of the Norwegian Labor party. At 16 he became president of a local labor branch, and at 23 he was one of the leaders of the party. At the outbreak of the war, Lie was minister of commerce in the Norwegian government and by February, 1941, was appointed minister of foreign affairs, then in exile in London.

Lie's catapult into U. N. affairs came during the San Francisco conference which founded the United Nations, where he served as chairman of the commission which drafted the charter of the security council.

At that time — and since — he has sometimes sided against the United States and Great Britain. In fact, during the early U. N. days, he was nominated by Ambassador Gromyko to be the first president of the general assembly. Now his influence is emphatically against his onetime supporters.

In New York Lie gets along well with Mayor O'Dwyer and Bob Moses, with whom he confers every two weeks or so regarding the great international city on the East River of Manhattan, which the Rockefellers are erecting as a symbol of international peace.

This, of course, has put him in touch with various New York civic leaders such as Tom Watson of International Business Machines, Winthrop Aldrich of the Chase National bank, and John W. Davis, former Democratic candidate for president, who have come to regard Lie almost as a fellow New Yorker.

Lie And McCarthy
Last December, Lie told a friend that he thought the cold war could be ended by a high-level conference between Truman, Stalin, Attlee and Bidault. But when he was urged to see President Truman about such a meeting, Lie smiled.

"The state department wouldn't like it," he said, "and they always keep a good watch on me."

In this, Lie has one remotely common interest with Senator McCarthy. While he doesn't believe there are Communists in the state department, he wonders why, when President Truman has made such a clean sweep of his domestic cabinet family, he has never brought much change to the state department. Lie apparently feels that it needs a change.

At any rate, the conference that Lie proposed last December is now taking place in part — one segment meeting in London under the big three, the other between Lie and the Kremlin in Moscow. In effect, Lie is now serving as an ambassador of good will between the two.

President's Tour Will Be Just Warm-up For November Fight

By Peter Edson
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 10 — President Harry S. Truman has taken to the western road under somewhat confused political circumstances. It is scheduled as a non-political junket. But the President of the United States can't do anything without its having some political significance.

After six years in office, the President and his Fair Deal program have gotten nowhere. The record of the 81st Congress is not good. Though it still has 60 or 90 days to go, the Senate is headed for another FEPC filibuster in which little will be accomplished.

Sen. Claude Pepper has been defeated in the Florida primary. Sen. Lister Hill won renomination easily in Alabama, but the Dixiecrats are still a major administration annoyance. Finally, ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen has characterized Truman as "a clever politician, but the worst President" — a phrase that may stick and may hurt.

To all these bad political omens, there is a Democratic answer. Blame for lack of progress on the President's program in Congress is put upon the Southern Democrats who have teamed up with the Republicans to defeat or stymie many administration measures.

Some of the President's political advisers are coaching him to come out swinging against the Dixiecrats on his present tour. The Northern Democrats licked the Dixiecrats at Philadelphia in 1948, but they haven't stayed licked. It may take another Philadelphia showdown, say the regulars, to give them the party control they want.

Pepper Defeat Analyzed
Democratic spokesmen claim that Senator Pepper's defeat in the Florida primary was no great setback for President Truman. They recall now — though no mention was made of it during the campaign — that Pepper was against Truman at Philadelphia. First Pepper made a number of pro-Eisenhower statements. Then for about 24 hours, Pepper was himself a candidate against Truman.

Senator Pepper was never entirely forgiven for this rebellion, even though he did later endorse the Fair Deal. But if Representative Smathers, who defeated Pepper, continues his anti-Truman primary campaign line, it is fairly obvious that the administration would have preferred to see Pepper win.

What hurts the Truman administration worse than the Pepper defeat, however, is the strong showing made by the Dixiecrats in their fight to hold control of the Alabama political machine's executive committee. The Truman administration is powerless as long as such opposition exists.

Governor Stassen's crack at the President is taken by Democrats in Washington as merely an indication that Stassen, who now heads University of Pennsylvania, is himself again a GOP candidate.

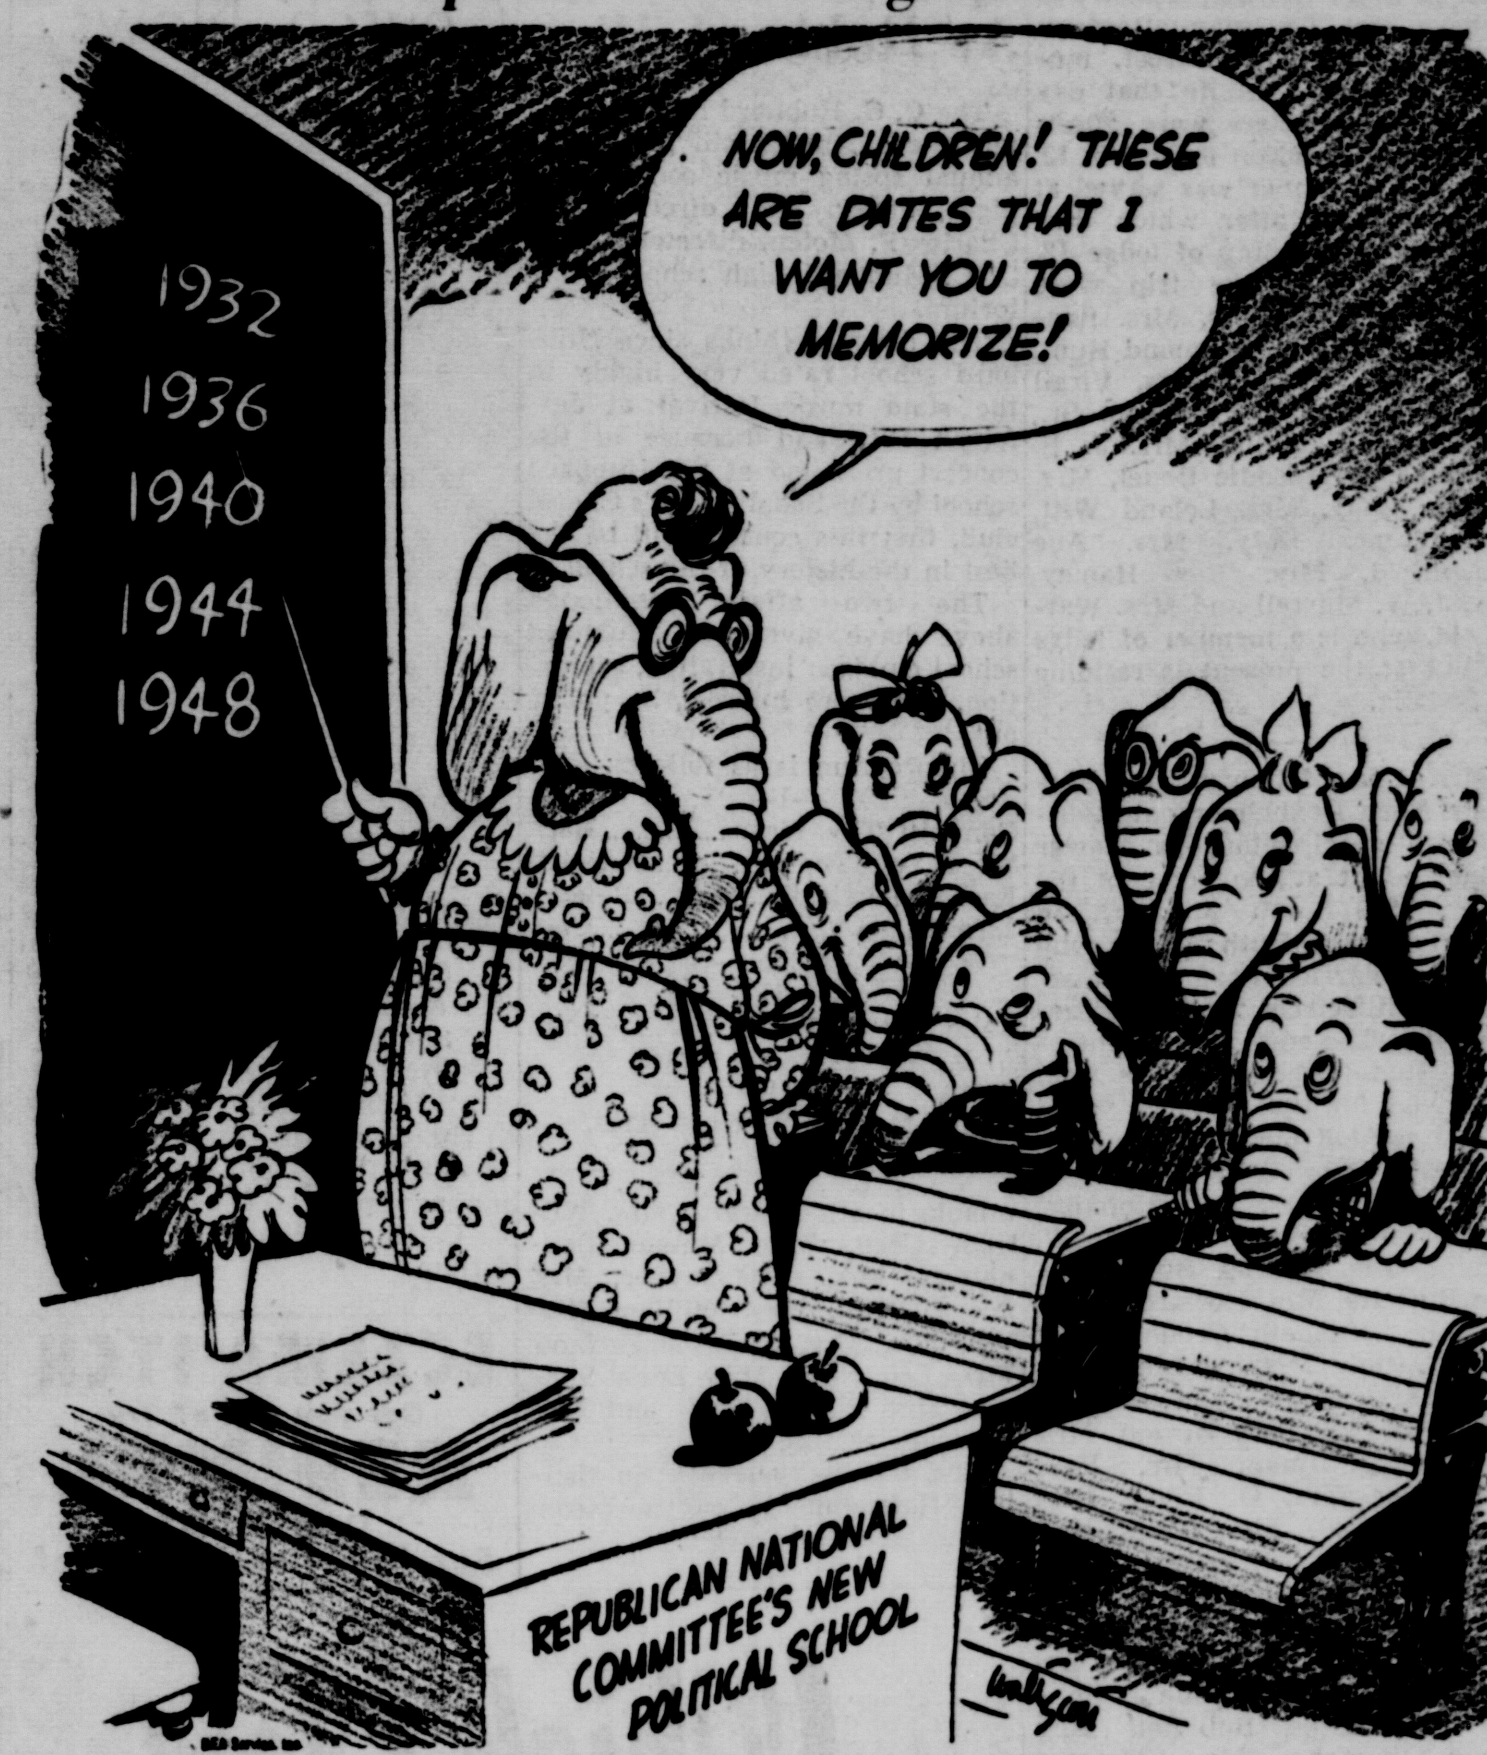

As for Stassen's statement that "the plans for Grand Coulee dam were prepared under President Hoover," there seems to be some difference of opinion. The record seems to indicate that the plans were prepared by Bureau of Reclamation under Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, who authorized construction as a PWA project.

Grand Coulee construction was begun in December, 1933. It got most of its congressional support from Republican Sen. Charles McNary. On that schedule, Hoover may never even have seen the plans.

Non-Political "Excuse" For Trip
The non-political reason, or excuse, for President Truman's trip west at this time is to dedicate completion of installation of the last generating unit at Grand Coulee, and to dedicate Kortes Dam, in Wyoming. The President won't actually go to Kortes Dam, which won't really be completed for another few months. The road to the dam site isn't good and bad weather might throw off the whole trip schedule. So the President will do his dedicating at Casper, Wyo., 80 miles away. He can of course draw a bigger crowd there.

The President makes this dam trip at the invitation of Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman. At Casper, the President will be able to get in

AT last Clemency went back into the house. She had reached the bottom of the stairs leading to the nursery when she became aware of someone descending. Looking up, she saw Piers.

"Clemency—"
As he ran down there was nothing to see you all day. After I brought the doctor back I had to go out again. I only returned half an hour ago. My dear love, you look worn out. This is all too dreadful. They've got a night nurse, haven't they?"

She nodded. It was incredible that he should behave as if nothing except Baba's illness had happened to disturb their relationship; and yet at the sight of him in the strangest way the anger and bitterness which had underlain her pain seemed to have died, leaving only that searing ache in her heart, and a deepening wonder that anything in Syria's half-consciousness could ever have been true.

"Come and talk to me for a few minutes," Piers urged. "I know that at this stage it may seem selfish to think of our own affairs, but there are still some things which must be said between us." "Not now!" she exclaimed. "Afterwards perhaps."

"Very well, later," he conceded. "As long as you don't forget that we are important." This time he managed to gain possession of her hands, and then as he looked down at them he asked sharply: "Where is your ring?"

"Upstairs." She knew abruptly that she could not discuss it now. She pulled herself free. "I must get back to Baba," she said. "We can't talk now, and it's useless anyway."

Then she ran upstairs. Watching her go, there was a puzzled pain in his eyes. It was only when he was back in his study that he wondered suddenly if he should have listened to Syria. Had it been foolish of him not to explain last night? And yet how difficult it would have been. He had never been able to make Jon believe—

Knowing what Syria had twice done to him, he should have realized the possibility of the final blow. However ruthless they are capable of being, and however difficult it may be for the mere surface observer to believe, there is, in men like Piers Ambery, an almost childlike streak of trustfulness, born from their own complete integrity. He told himself now that when all this misery of the child's illness was over, Clemency would listen to him.

BUT in the next days there could be no thought of personal things, however important. Dr. Rigaud had sent an urgent call to a specialist in Algiers—a man renowned for his brilliant handling of chest and lung complaints, and the consultant promised to leave immediately for the coast.

With his arrival the real fight began. Jon still paced outside in the passage or came into the day nursery to look through the open communicating door. The specialist had brought a nurse from his own clinic with him, but Sister Therese, who seemed to need no rest in her off-duty times, was constantly there. But whenever Baba emerged from that terrifying stupor it was Clemency she wanted—Clemency alone who could quieten her, hold her gently down in the bed from which in frightened delirium she tried to struggle.

Syria had gone entirely to pieces and in her own room, the long suffering Justine had to cope with her.

The dreaded hour of the crisis drew near. Clemency had slept little during the night, and doing everything she was asked to with flawless efficiency she still moved

Hard to Deny Slave Labor Is Heart of Soviet Economy

By Bruce Bioesat

Reliable informants have been telling the free nations for years that Russia has a slave labor force of 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 people. But not until now have we had evidence of the key role these workers play in the total Russian economy.

Miss Toni Sender of the American Federation of Labor has given the United Nations photostatic copies of documents indicating that the Soviet secret police, MVD, manages slave labor projects basic to Russian planning. The police actually operate the biggest and cheapest economic agency in the nation.

Slave workers turn out a tenth of all Soviet furniture and kitchenware, an eighth of all timber produced, 40 per cent of the chrome, 75 per cent of the gold, 14 per cent of all major construction.

They build and maintain all paved roads, all round in a haze of misery and semi-exhaustion.

Two or three times she was aware that Piers was near—aware, too, of the strange comfort his presence brought, even though they did not exchange a word.

Towards evening she went downstairs to ask Ahmed for something the doctor wanted, and when she returned she found Syria crouching in a chair to the day nursery. For once the perfection of her make-up had been neglected, and she looked worn and haggard. As Clemency passed she sobbed.

"I can't bear it," Syria covered her face. "I never knew I could—feel like this. I didn't want her—I hated having her. And—I told you I'm not the maternal type. But she's so pretty, and—I can't bear to lose her. I'll be different—I promise I'll be better to her. I love her more if—if only she lives."

SOMEHOW Clemency could not bring herself to make any reply. It was not anything Syria had done to her personally which froze the pity in her heart. There was a hard gloss of selfishness on everything about the other which made it more tragic that she should have wrought so much mischief and unhappiness.

As she re-entered the other room the nurse and the two doctors were gathered about the bed. Sister Therese stood a little apart, silently telling her beads. Conscious of the nun's serene spirituality, which she translated into such practical scientific help when it was needed, Clemency thought involuntarily: It is that which we need above everything—faith and work together; and she passed on to join the others, strangely comforted.

The specialist was holding one of Baba's small, inert wrists between his fingers. After a moment he put it gently down.

Clemency looked at him, fear almost choking her. Then: "Oh, no!" she whispered.

The doctor passed a hand wearily over his forehead. "I think she should be all right now," he said. "She is sleeping quite naturally." (To Be Continued) rail lines through isolated regions (which are plentiful in the Soviet Union). They mine uranium for atomic use, and build and operate all atomic developments.

In numerous other industries, forced labor accounts for from 10 to 50 per cent of total Soviet output.

Russia has, of course, acknowledged that it has a "controlled" labor force. But it insists these workers are "criminals" and describes the places where they live as "corrective camps."

Russia must, then, be swarming with millions of criminals. For no small force could accomplish what MVD's slaves have done. One suspects that their two chief crimes are in opposing Russian Communist leaders and simply being alive. The MVD camps often seem designed to "correct" both these annoying habits.

Miss Sender's documentary evidence means this: No longer can anyone fairly dismiss Russian forced labor as an unfortunate sideline in an otherwise progressive economic system, as a lot of Soviet apologists have tried to do. Slave labor is clearly the very heart and substance of the Russian economy.

Where does this leave the glorious dream of Russian communism, with its promises of fair treatment and equality for all?

It seems incredible that any American, however unlucky his own lot, could look with hope toward a country whose leaders have put a tenth of their 200,000,000 people in chains. As practiced in the Soviet Union, communism is a doctrine not of equality but of servility.

Acts 5:40—42; Phil. 1:12—19; I Pet. 4:14

LEE FORWARD:

Yesterday we saw the possibility of using our handicaps. Today we are going to see them as spurs that drive us forward. Jesus told His disciples that when the people turned them out of one village, they were to "flee to the next." In other words, if you have to flee, flee forward—to the next opportunity on your list. Some flee backward; but the Christian, when he flees, always flees forward. (1) If you have the impulse to flee, then flee forward. All of us sometimes feel like running away. We differ only in our manner of running—some flee forward, and some flee backward.

Not having a college education made Rabindranath Tagore, India's great poet, the greatest literary figure of India. He fled from the lack of a college education—forward! He could have drawn back and bemoaned his inferior education; instead he turned that lack into a spur, became superior in himself, and founded a new type of educational institution.

Once I was sitting in the back seat of a car—the kind of car that has a sliding seat in front. The man who was driving called to his wife in the back seat and said, "Please kick me forward, dear." Life is bound to kick you, for all get knocks—some more, some less; the important thing is the direction in which you are kicked. Make life kick you forward!

A young woman told me that when I was talking to an audience about mental states of fear and resentments produced personally to her! She had not accomplished as much as she was capable of doing in her teaching of voice, and so lost her own voice to give her an excuse for her failure. The trouble was not in her vocal chords, but in her defeatist mentality. She encountered this difficulty in accomplishment, and fled backward—backward into subterfuges and excuses. She should have taken the obstacle and turned it into opportunity—her failure into fruitfulness.

My Father and my God, I see that my life will be made or broken at the place where I meet and deal with my obstacles. Help me not to run away from them, but to run toward them, to tackle and overcome them. Help me to take the impulse to flee and compel it to make me flee forward. In His name. Amen.

The Doctor Says—

Anemia Warns That Something Is Out of Order in the Body

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The blood contains small round disks called red blood cells, or erythrocytes. Normally, there are about five million of these cells in each cubic millimeter of blood. (There are more than 16,000 cubic millimeters in a cubic inch.) These cells contain oxygen and a red coloring matter—hemoglobin—which are indispensable to life. When there are too few red blood cells or not enough hemoglobin the condition is called "anemia."

Anemia is not a single disease. Many different things can cause a lack of red blood cells or hemoglobin. One form is called pernicious anemia, or primary anemia. The cause of this condition is not known, though the discovery of the value of liver—and more recently Vitamin B 12—has changed it from a disease which used to be fatal into one which can be successfully treated in almost all cases.

With the exception of pernicious anemia, the problem boils down to finding out what has caused the lack of red cells or hemoglobin, or both. One of the most simple and yet a very frequent cause is bleeding from somewhere in the body.

If a person loses more blood than the system can replace, anemia develops. If this is sudden, as from a wound, the difficulty can be remedied promptly by stopping the hemorrhage and giving a blood transfusion. If hemorrhage is slow, it is necessary to find where the bleeding comes from and to stop it if possible.

If this kind of anemia is severe, it may be necessary to give transfusions or take other measures, including the use of iron preparations, iron being an important part of hemoglobin.

One kind of anemia comes most commonly in women between 30 and 50 years of age. The cause of this anemia is a deficiency of iron due to several things, probably including defective diet and poor absorption due to disturbance of the stomach and intestine.

This causes a feeling of weakness, shortness of breath, nervous disturbances, dry hair, sore tongue and paleness. Fortunately once it has been identified it can be successfully treated by giving iron.

Bone Marrow Deficiency
Anemia may result from the failure of the organs which make the blood to meet the needs of the body. This difficulty lies principally in the bone marrow and is much like the anemia which comes from certain poisons.

Anemia is usually the reflection of something seriously wrong with the body. No one with severe anemia can feel well or can be normally energetic. The cause should be tracked down and proper treatment employed.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Dixie Backs Up Her Hubby Bing

HOLLYWOOD, May 10—(AP)—Dixie Lee Crosby, once a singer herself, lifted her voice Tuesday to back crooner husband Bing's denial of a rift in their marriage, the Los Angeles Herald-Express reports.

"If Bing says there is nothing to it, there is nothing to it," the newspaper quoted Dixie as saying by telephone from Carmel, Calif.

"If anybody thinks differently they can take it from there."

(The newspaper said its reporter talked with Mrs. Crosby after she called in answer to his request.

(In Carmel, a housekeeper insisted that Mrs. Crosby is away for a week and said she—the housekeeper—talked with the Herald-Express reporter).

The singer's attorney, John O'Melveny, said yesterday "there are some strained relations" in the 20-year marriage, and brother Larry Crosby added: "We hope it is a separation and not a divorce."

Crosby, from Paris, said that he had received a letter from his wife a few days ago and "everything was all right then." Dixie was quoted as saying she had been hearing regularly from Bing since he went to Europe several weeks ago.

She admitted that she and Bing had employed attorneys to aid them work out certain financial matters, including trust funds for their four sons.

"Whenever you get money, there are problems," she explained. "A couple of months ago we were doing some juggling around. We were trying to separate money. I suppose that's how it all started."

"Say," she added, "Many knew us when we didn't have a quarter. Sometimes I wish it were that way again, because that's as far as my arithmetic goes. I still can't divide 25 cents."

There have been rumors in recent years that their marriage was not running smoothly, but there never has been an outright break.

Clear Creek Annie Gives Up Highway Department Battle DENVER, May 10—(AP)—Clear Creek Annie has given up her one-woman battle to stop the Colorado Highway Department from building a new road into the mountains, the department said.

L. G. Trueheart, right-of-way engineer, said Mrs. Annie Davis left her railroad-car cabin near Idaho Springs during the weekend and moved to the home of a brother, Ivo J. Lee, in Golden. Trueheart said that Lee subsequently burned down the cabin. "We had nothing to do with this, it was all voluntary," the engineer said.

Allison Hasn't Seen President

ST. JOSEPH, May 10—(AP)—State Senator Emery Allison, here in behalf of his campaign for the Democratic U. S. senatorial nomination, said Tuesday he has not seen his principal supporter — President Truman — since July, 1948.

Allison said he last saw him at the Philadelphia National Convention that month, but he had talked to the president by telephone several times since then.

He added that he expects to see the President in St. Louis next month at the 35th Division reunion.

He said he has no intention of asking the President to speak in his behalf in Missouri before the primary.

Allison pointed out that a month before the Binaggio-Gargotta slayings in Kansas City he had publicly declared himself as favoring the use of all possible federal power to suppress syndicated crime.

He said he believes now, as he believed then, that every possible federal agency should be utilized in the fight to drive out crime.

"I never knew Charles Binaggio and Charles Gargotta. I never met them," he said.

CLEVELAND, May 10 — (AP) — Lester Fisher of Brecksville was elected Republican precinct committeeman last week. But he lost the job by a landslide. After Fisher filed his petition for the office his house was undermined by a landslide and was moved to Independence. Republican headquarters today named a Brecksville man to replace Fisher.

SICK!

RELIEF FOR CONSTIPATION SUFFERERS

Uni-Lax Is The Answer

Sufferers can now hope for relief from the use of harsh laxatives through the use of this new drug, sodium carboxymethylcellulose, the active ingredient of Uni-Lax. Uni-Lax is a bulking substance which is taken easily in tablet form.

Drop a tablet in a glass of lukewarm water. Leave it there overnight and see what happens. The same thing happens in the digestive tract. It forms a suspension of many, many little translucent gelatinous particles. It goes through most of the digestive tract unchanged, but turns to a smooth gel about the time it reaches the colon, where the laxative action is desired.

Recent Tests Prove

In recent tests conducted at a world famous clinic, it was reported that sodium carboxymethylcellulose, the active ingredient of Uni-Lax, will help relieve constipation. It can also do much to repair the harm done by harsh laxatives.

In testing this new drug, patients were used who had been taking (to use their expression) "barrels of laxatives". One elderly woman had been taking daily doses as long as she could remember. A girl of 19 years, had been taking laxatives since early childhood. Sodium carboxymethylcellulose helped relieve their condition.

In one test, an elderly man complained of lifelong constipation. After taking the new drug for a week, she was having the most satisfactory bowel function she could remember.

Injured WAC Sergeant Regains Consciousness

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kas., May 10 — (AP) — WAC Sergeant Ellen Drommond regained consciousness for the first time since she was struck by a car April 30 on a highway near Platte City, Mo.

Public information officials said she began stirring yesterday and today was out of her coma and improving.

Sgt. Drommond, of Haigler, Neb., was struck south of Platte City as she stood beside her car. She had been halted by another motorist who thought she might have picked up something he dropped from his light truck.

The driver of the car which struck her, 21-year-old George Vernasse of Kansas City, is free under $2000 bond to appear before Platte county magistrate Kinzea Cox on a felony charge of leaving the scene of an accident. He was arrested by Missouri Highway Patrolmen in St. Joseph after the accident.

District Meet Held by Legion

Members of the American Legion and its Auxiliary attended the meeting of the Seventh District in Concordia, Mo., Sunday. Miss Helen Herder of Slater, Mo., president of the district presided over the Auxiliary meeting where interesting reports were read of the years work by each unit. The "Poppy Day" program was stressed, where-by money is realized by the sale of the "Little Red Flower" to be used for rehabilitation.

Mrs. J. B. Grotewell of St. Louis made a most instructive talk on Communism and Russia. The next district meeting was announced for July 23 at Glasgow. Following the meeting of the Auxiliary joined the Legion for refreshments served by the Concordia post and unit.

A program of two accordion numbers, three numbers by the Concordia high school male quartet, a talk by Paul Heynie of Concordia, national winner of the Legion oratorical contest and Kenneth Frieking of Concordia, state winner of the contest. J. B. Grotewell of St. Louis, department American chairman, Mr. Wesley Day of Webb City, department child welfare chairman and Mr. Chas. Bacon of Marshall, department senior vice commander were the principal speakers, introduced by Erman Taylor of Blackburn, district commander.

Talks on "Color in Home" Given Club

The Shaekeford club met April 20 at the home of Mrs. E. D. Yager with an all day meeting. Mrs. George Spry and Mrs. E. D. Yager, project leaders, gave talks on "Color in the Home." A donation for the Salvation Army was taken up which amounted to $5.00.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Raymond Walker May 18.

Project of Tractor Maintenance

The second project meeting of the Prairie Ridge 4-H boys who are taking tractor maintenance was held at the Forrest Reid home April 27 in which three demonstrations were given as follows: "Changing Oil Filters" by Clinton Reid and Wilburn Hayes, Jr., "Safe Way to Crank a Tractor" by Keven Vickrey and "Cleaning Air Cleaners" by J. D. Gregory. A talk and discussion was held regarding oil leaks. There were 10 members present and two visitors.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Barbara Anne and Betty Jo Reid. The next meeting will be held at the Earl Gregory home May 29.

Newcastle disease is a virus infection of chickens, turkeys and other fowl. May occur from the first week throughout life of bird. It is widespread and mortality is often 90%. The symptoms are similar to bronchitis and laryngotracheitis at first. These symptoms are generally followed by a nervous or paralytic stage. Since this area is infected vaccination should be general. With the newer intra-nasal vaccines it is a simple procedure and not very expensive. We stock Lederle's and Dr. Salisbury's, also Wyeths killed virus which has some definite advantages - it is given hyodermically - eliminates the possibility of infection on remises.

Medical Society Drops Dr. Saunderson

MILFORD, N. H., May 10—(P)— Hillsborough county medical society dropped Dr. Herman N. Saunderson last night, announcing he "no longer is a member of this society."

Dr. Lloyd L. Wells of Manchester, secretary of the society, issued this brief statement following a meeting attended by about 100 of its 175 members:

"At a meeting of the Hillsborough County Medical Society it was voted that Hermann N. Saunderson is no longer a member of the society."

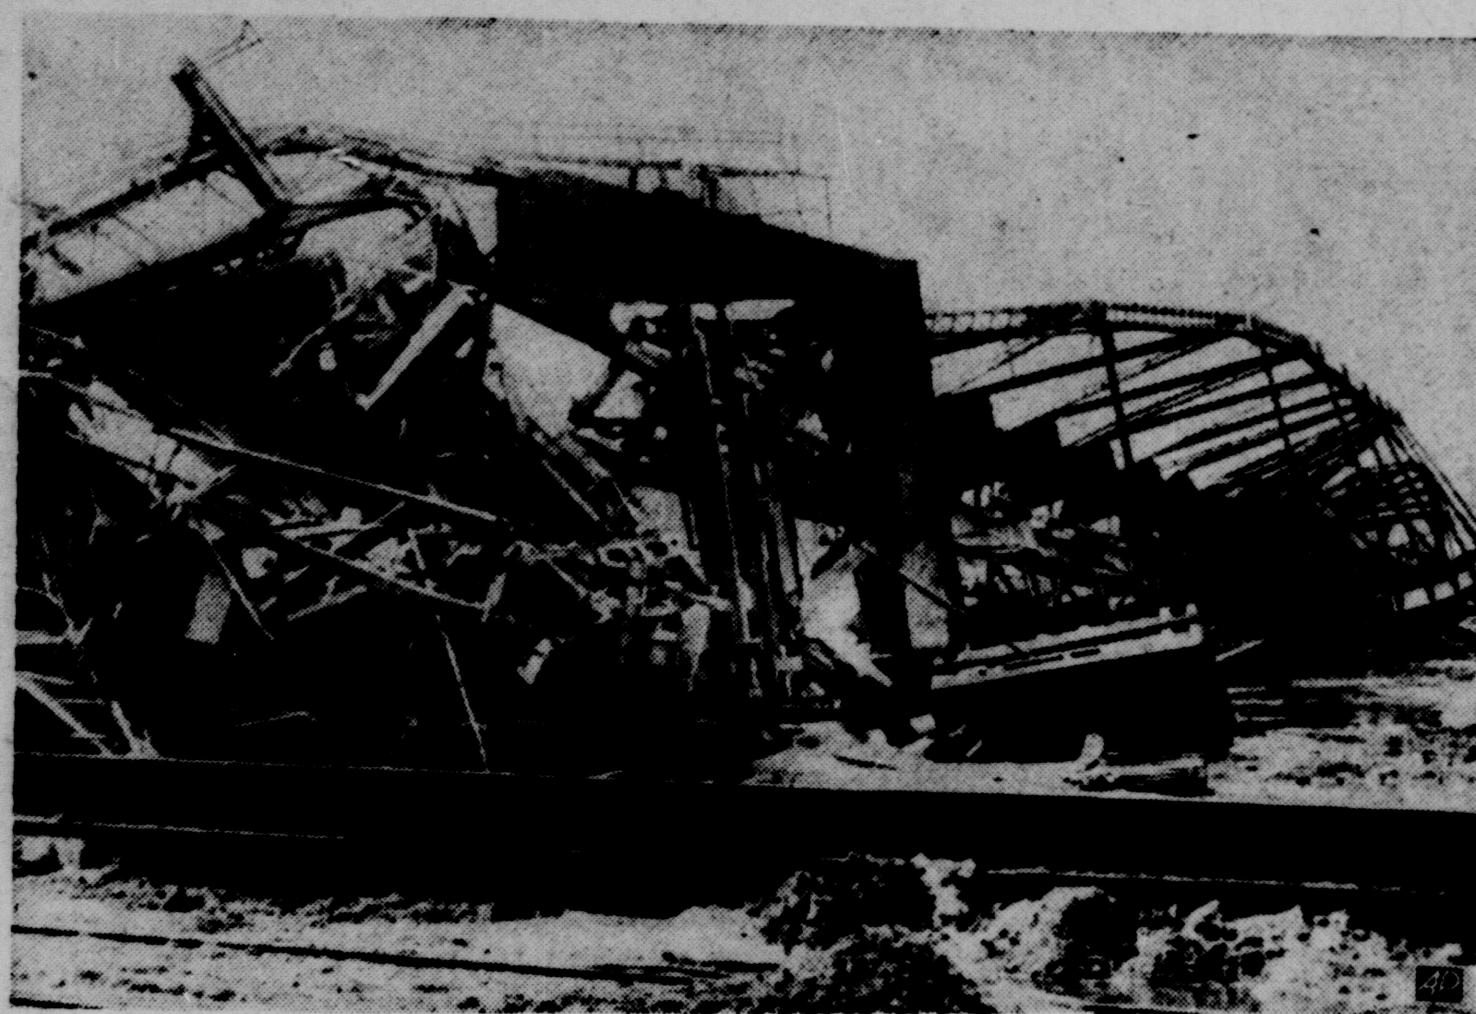

Dr. Wells refused to amplify the statement but it was believed the action was almost automatic in the wake of the state medical board's revocation last April 19 of Dr. Saunderson's license to practice medicine.

The 41-year-old Candia physician was acquitted last March 9 of a murder charge in the death of his cancer-stricken patient, Mrs. Abbie C. Borroth, 59, of Manchester. The state charged he killed her by injections of air but Dr. Saunderson's counsel argued she was already dead when the air was injected.

Dr. Saunderson also faces charges brought by fellow members of the county medical group. The society's three-doctor board censors has held several meetings to consider these charges, but has not announced a decision.

Tonight's meeting apparently

Wind vs. Steel

This huge steel coal bridge at the Philadelphia & Reading dock at Superior, Wis., was toppled, twisted and smashed by 88 mile-an-hour winds which struck the area May 5. This dock damage was estimated at $1,000,000. (AP Wirephoto) was a well-kept secret. Police guarded the Masonic Hall where the doctors met. No one but society members was allowed to enter.

Dr. Saunderson's home was not accepting calls and the doctor was not available for comment on this latest move.

Under the terms of the license revocation, he can reapply June 19 for the right to resume practice.

Connecticut Leads Pedestrian Safety

WASHINGTON, May 10—(P)— Connecticut won the grand award among states in the American Automobile Association's 11th national pedestrian protection contest.

The states were classified in four groups in the contest, varying as to traffic conditions and other factors.

Kansas won first and Nebraska second in Group 4.

St. Joseph, Mo., tied for third with Lakewood, O., among cities with populations of 50,000 to 100,000.

Retail Grocers are Guests at a Dinner

Retail Grocers of Sedalia were special guests of Swift and Company and the Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage company at a fried chicken dinner in the pioneer room of Dan's restaurant Tuesday evening.

R. C. Miller, Swift representative of Des Moines, Iowa gave a talk on the progress of the chicken industry and of its growth and expansion in past years. He showed a film concerning the ice-packed chicken. He added several suggestions to the Retail Grocers concerning the merchandising of the product.

Millions Not in Religious Group

WASHINGTON, May 10—(P)— The president of the Military Chaplains' Association said today that approximately 50,000,000 Americans who believe in God "are not affiliated with any religious group."

In a speech prepared for the opening of the association's annual convention, the Rev. Fred C. Reynolds appealed to "these non-church, non-synagogue members" to join "the religious group that most nearly harmonizes with their personal convictions x x x in an effort to strengthen the forces of faith and morality of the nation."

"For unless these forces are strengthened," the chaplain said, "democracy, freedom, peace and prosperity are doomed."

QUADS PERK UP SLEEPY EYE, MINNESOTA—Three tiny girls and one boy, born to farm couple, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seifert, have brought the drowsy little town of Sleepy Eye, Minn., just about the most excitement it ever had. In Sleepy Eye's municipal hospital, above, nurse Mrs. Thomas Yetter looks over the quads, who are "doing nicely." The father, a former athlete and sandlot baseball manager, said the addition of four to their previous six "sure creates some problems." He offered $10 to anyone who suggests the names used for the four, and said, "It looks like I'll have to do a little more farming and play a little less baseball."

Baseball Feat For Tigers

Smith-Cotton Team
Won 2nd Straight
Game, by Defeating
Grandview, 6 to 2

Bob Ray, Smith-Cotton fireballer, pitched no-hit ball and drove in two runs to lead his team to a six to two win over Grandview high school at Grandview, Tuesday night in the state subregional tourney of the western district.

The Bengals scored all of their runs in the second frame after two were out. Grandview scored one in the second and another in the seventh for their two tallies.

Morgan's Homer

In the seven innings that Ray worked, he struck out nine men and walked three and two men got on base due to errors. Swartz, the Grandview pitcher, had a creditable mound job nullified by sloppy infield play. He fanned eight Tiger batsmen. Bill Morgan hit the first round tripper of the season for the S-C high school squad when his smash to Bright took a bad hop and rolled all the way to the wall.

The Tigers will play at Mexico on May 19 with the winner of the M. W. A. and Mexico high school team. All elimination games are seven innings, up to the championship game, which will be nine innings. Following the game Tuesday night the Tiger players returned to Sedalia by school bus.

Since Bill McCrary won the toss, Smith-Cotton was the home team.

Play by play description:

First Inning — Sharron struck out. Kling grounded to Shawver. Good also grounded to Shawver. No runs, no hits, none left.

Second Inning — Grandview — Bratton went out swinging. Mathis walked and stole second and third. Perkins bunted and safe on an error as Mathis scored. Nold threw out Perkins stealing second. Hilton hit back to Ray to end the inning. One run, no hits, one error, none left.

Third Inning — Sedalia — Holst got to first on an error by the third sacker. Nold beat out a bunt. McCrary bunted but stepped on the ball in fair territory and was declared out. Broadbuss struck out. Shawver got on first on an error by the first baseman, to fill the bases. Ray then singled to center and Holst and Nold scored. Ruffin tripled to left center, scoring Shawver and Ray. Morgan hit his home run and Ruffin scored ahead of him. Walker struck out. Six runs, three hits, two errors, none left.

Fourth Inning — Grandview — Kling struck out. Good grounded to Walker. Morgan took care of Bratton's smash to end the inning. No runs, no hits, none left.

Fifth Inning — Sedalia — Broadbuss popped to second. Shawver grounded to second. Ray bounced to pitcher. No runs, no hits, none left.

Sixth Inning — Grandview — Mathis walked. Perkins grounded out to Shawver, who made a nice play in back of first. Mathis went to second. Hilton tapped to Ray. Milane tapped to Ray. No runs, no hits, one left.

Seventh Inning — Sedalia — Ruffin struck out. Morgan struck out. Walker flied to center. No runs, no hits, none left.

Eighth Inning — Grandview — Swartz struck out. Kling bounced to Shawver. No runs, no hits, none left.

Ninth Inning — Sedalia — Holst flied to right. Nold singled to right and went to second on an error by the right fielder. McCrary struck out.

11 Home Runs For American Association

American Association sluggers came to the front in a wild session of home run hitting Tuesday night. A total of 11 circuit blows were slammed in three games.

Kansas City's date at Louisville was rained out.

Six homers were whammed at Toledo, five of them unloaded by Minneapolis for a 9-6 victory. Three of the first six Millers to face rookie Art McConnell hit round trippers. The Mud Hens grabbed a 5-3 lead with five runs in the fourth, then the Kels slapped two more homers to move ahead to stay. Bert Haas hit two and Dave Williams, Jack Harshman and John Drott one each.

Austin Knickerbocker poled one for Toledo in the eighth.

Batting Honors
Individual batting honors went to Lou Limmer. He leveled two home runs and added a double to drive in six runs in St. Paul's 12-2 rout of Columbus.

Attempt to Round Bottom of Pins

COLUMBUS, O., May 10—(P)—A scoring break for the bowlers is in the making, if executive directory of the ABC have their way.

The directors, at a pre-convention session last night, put their stamp of approval on a rules amendment which would permit the rounding of the bottoms of the pins — a thing frowned upon and banned by the regulations since the American Bowling Congress was formed 56 years ago.

The amendment, which must get a majority of the votes of some 400 delegates at Friday's convention would allow rounding of the bottoms on a 5-32 inch radius.

To Recognize Winner of the June 5 Fight

PHILADELPHIA, May 10—(P)—Pennsylvania State Athletic commission announced yesterday it will recognize the winner of June 5 Ray Robinson-Robert Villmain fight as the middleweight champion of the world.

Vacate Lamotta's Rights
The commission then called up on the National Boxing Association—of which it is a member—to vacate champion Jake Lamotta's rights to the title. Commissioner John (Ox) Da Grossa said Lamotta has not defended his title against the leading challenger within the NBA's stipulated six month period.

If the NBA refuses to endorse the Pennsylvania Commission's action and declines to vacate Lamotta's title, then Da Grossa said, the Pennsylvania body will take the matter under further discussion before deciding on its next move.

At Paterson, N. J., Abe J. Greene, commissioner of the NBA, said, "We will canvas members of the executive committee of the NBA to determine what our policy will be. Pennsylvania has two outstanding men in Robinson and Villmain. We should know more about the situation in a week."

Hasn't Defended Title
Robinson, who holds the World's Welterweight crown, and Villmain, the slugging Frenchman, are recognized by the NBA as leading contenders for Lamotta's 160-pound title.

Lamotta, who won the title from the late Marcel Cerdan last June 16, hasn't yet defended it. But last week he agreed to put the crown on the line in a June 14th bout at New York's Yankee stadium against an opponent to be named later. Neither Robinson nor Villmain, were listed among the likely opponents.

Missouri Downed Colorado 3 to 0

BOULDER, Colo., May 10—(P)—Missouri downed Colorado 3-0 yesterday in a Big Seven conference baseball game played in rainy, cold weather.

But the weather didn't affect the pitching of Missouri's Bob Smith, who held Colorado to two hits and struck out 15 men.

The game was halted an hour by rain. The victory enabled Missouri to even the two-game series. Colorado won Monday 8-0. Missouri 000 100 020—3 5 0. Colorado 000 000 020—2 3 0. Smith and Alexander; Nix, Pudlik (9) and Hagin.

Honor Originator Of "Viking Spirit"

MARSHALL, Mo., May 9—(P)—The man who originated the "Viking Spirit" at Missouri Valley College will be honored Sunday for 25 years as pastor of a country Presbyterian church near here.

Dr. W. I. "Pop" Ferguson, professor of mathematics at Valley and an ardent follower of Viking football teams for more than 50 years, will be celebrating his 25th anniversary at the Hardeman Presbyterian church.

An all-day program has been planned to honor him, including an address Sunday afternoon by Dr. H. Roe Bartle, president of Missouri Valley. The Marshall Ministerial Alliance will be in charge of the service.

Seven Missouri Schools to Hold Annual Track Meet

MARSHALL, Mo., May 10—(P)—The seven schools of the Missouri College Athletic Union will hold their annual track, tennis and golf meets here Thursday and Friday.

Missouri Valley and Central college are the top contenders for the track title. Other competing schools are William Jewell, Tarkio, Drury, Culver-Stockton and Westminster.

Preliminaries in the track meet will be run Thursday and Friday afternoons, with the finals Friday night.

Ralph Kiner Leads The National in Home Runs

PITTSBURGH, May 10—(P)—Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner has emerged from a brief slump to start baseball records spinning and to serve notice that he is on his way to a new major league home run record this year.

Kiner bashed out home runs number six and seven last night to put him three ahead of his homer count at the same time last year.

Last night's performance scuttled the Brooklyn Dodgers 10-5. The two home runs — one a grand slammer — drove in seven runs and gave Kiner the National league lead in home runs and in runs batted in with 20.

Two Champs Matched in Golf Tourney

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., May 10—(P)—Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas, and Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, Md. — both veterans of championship golf warfare — meet today in the second round of the Women's Southern Golf tournament.

This is the third match between the little Texan and the four-time Maryland state and Baltimore city champion.

Each has won one match in their previous meetings. Mrs. Glick, yesterday scored a smashing 9 and 8 victory over Mrs. Warren Pollard of Richmond, Va. Twenty-three-year-old Polly had easy going herself yesterday as most of the matches followed the pre-tournament script on the 6,056-yard Cavalier Yacht & Country Club layout. Miss Riley tripped Mrs. Marion McFarland of Orlando, Fla., 6 and 5.

New Site For 1951 NCAA Tournament

CHICAGO, May 10—(P)—The National Collegiate Athletic association basketball tournament finals will be moved from Madison Square Garden in 1951 to the University of Minnesota's new fieldhouse.

The switch was officially announced by Arthur (Dutch) Lomborg, director of athletics at Kansas and chairman of the NCAA tournament committee.

Life with the Tax Gremlins: 9

Editor's Note: "Life With the Tax Gremlins" is a 12-part thumbnail story of the nation's complicated tax structure. The characters: Uncle Sam, himself, his Gremlin, State and Local Tax Gremlins, and you—the taxpayers. It's from an "American Affairs" pamphlet published by the National Industrial Conference Board of New York, an independent, non-profit fact-finding institution supported by business, labor and other groups.

If what the Gremlins had already done to the family in today's cartoon were visible, the man would not have all of his pants nor the woman all of her fur coat. And if the artist had been able to get it in, the little girl might have a bag of candy, and if she had one the big Gremlin's fingers might be in it because there is a federal tax on sugar. Here, as everywhere, the Gremlins come first.

"To justify spending more than our income, some persons speak of what the government is doing FOR the 'little fellow.' Let me show you what the Federal Government is doing TO the 'little fellow.' The United States Government is making the small man smaller every day.

"If the 'little fellow' sends a message by telephone or telegraph he pays a tax. If he travels by railroad or bus he pays a tax. If he buys an automobile, the sale price includes a tax. When he buys gasoline or oil he pays a tax. If he buys cigarettes, he pays a tax. If he goes to a football game or baseball game, he pays a tax. If his wife buys a pocketbook or cosmetics, she pays a tax, and if his children go to a movie, they pay a tax.

Then to the movies.

"The average working man must work 47 days a year to earn the money necessary to pay his taxes to the Federal Government. This is almost one day out of every week. If the new programs now seriously proposed should be adopted he will have to pay in taxes the equivalent of his wages for an additional 20 days, making 67 days he will work each year for the government instead of for himself and his family. That is what the Federal Government is doing to the 'little fellow.' —The Hon. James F. Byrnes.

Lucas Resents Kem's Vote Fraud Remark

Kem Denied Remarks Declaring Lucas Had "Misquoted Me"

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—An angry row about Kansas City vote fraud charges was set off in the Senate Tuesday by President Truman's reference in a western speech to the Teapot Dome scandal.

Breaks Into Speech

Senator Kem (R-Mo.) broke into a speech by Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) to ask if Lucas knew that "in every campaign in which Harry Truman has been elected in Missouri there is strong evidence that there was fraud in the balloting."

"I resent that," Lucas shouted back, accusing Kem of saying that in 1948 President Truman carried Missouri "because of fraud in the ballot box."

Kem denied it, saying Lucas had "misquoted me," and tried to get the floor on a point of personal privilege to answer. He said he never claimed Truman victories were the actual result of fraud.

(Presidential Press Secretary Charles Ross told reporters aboard Mr. Truman's special train in Wyoming that the President had no comment on Kem's charges.)

In the resulting yelling, Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) bobbed up to demand "regular order"—which is a method of getting the chair to stop debate.

Senator Stennis (D-Miss.), who was presiding, ruled that Lucas had the floor and should go on.

Lucas, resuming his speech, said with ironic reference to Kem: "That's what you call a gentleman."

Kem "Don't Know Rules"

He said the Missourian had been in the senate four years and did not "even know the rules."

He told Kem to "Sit down" and

CLERICAL HOBBY—The Rev. Carl Knorr, of Milwaukee's Immanuel Lutheran Church, uses a magnifying glass to work on his model railroad, which took a year to build.

added that he would not yield again.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) started it all quietly enough with a speech replying to Mr. Truman's remarks on the oil scandals of the Harding administration.

He recalled the nomination of Edwin Pauley, California oil man, to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and the testimony of former Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes that Pauley had said he could get $300,000 in campaign contributions from California oil interests if the government would not file suit for tidelands oil lands.

Lucas, starting a Democratic reply, predicted that the President will return from his western trip more popular with the people than ever.

His quarrel with Kem arose after he had commented that as candidate for senator, vice president and president Mr. Truman "never lost Missouri in any campaign he's made."

He said Kem had been going about the state since 1946 shouting charges about vote frauds and the Pendergast machine but commented that in 1948 Mr. Truman carried Missouri by a quarter million votes.

After Kem started breaking in on him, Lucas suggested that Missouri voters know more about conditions there than their senator because they had "always reelected Harry Truman." He said the Missouri opinion is that the President was not "connected in any way" with any frauds that may have taken place.

17 Are Dead or Missing

Midwest States
Are Hard Hit
By Ravages of Flood Waters

Seventeen persons were dead or missing and more thousands were homeless today as the most damaging floods in years swept over three midwest states.

Human misery rose in the flood areas of North Dakota, Minnesota and Nebraska. Scores of communities were isolated as the surging waters from rain-swollen rivers and streams spilled out over thousands of acres of land.

Across the border in southern Manitoba, the flood crisis mounted. The homeless was some 15,000, and another 10,000 faced evacuation.

All the fatalities were in Nebraska. One of the worst floods in nearly 50 years struck the southeastern section of the state yesterday. Seven bodies had been recovered. Hope was abandoned for the other 10 missing persons.

The flash floods that hit south-east Nebraska followed downpours earlier in the week. The waves of water engulfed homes and swept cars from highways. Most of the dead were highway travelers caught by the floodwaters.

Saved by Hanging To Trees
Seven or eight passengers in a Burlington bus enroute from Nebraska City to Lincoln were caught in a crushing wave of water on a highway near Unadilla. Three passengers survived by hanging to trees. Four Nebraska City persons lost their lives when their car was swept from a highway near Auburn by floodwaters.

The flooding Red river, bordering North Dakota and Minnesota, dealt further devastating blows to property and livestock. The Red Cross reported more families driven from their homes all along the swollen Red river.

The livestock situation in North Dakota was described as "desperate." Gov. Fred G. Aandahl ordered an aerial livestock feeding service started today.

Asked To Move Out
WINNIPEG, Man., May 10—(P)—Women and children were asked today to move out of stricken Winnipeg, threatened by the ever rising waters of the rampaging Red river.

Brig. R. E. A. Norton, flood relief controller, said the appeal was issued in an attempt to relieve overtaxed city facilities. He emphasized it was an appeal and not an order.

His action came as the Royal Canadian Mounted Police prepared to remove remaining residents along the Red river from greater Winnipeg to the U. S. border, 60 miles south.

Morton's appeal to "non-combatants" to leave this city was a move to lighten the burden of those remaining behind to fight the rising flood. He called the action a proposal to effect "a thinning out of the city." Greater Winnipeg has a population of 350,000.

The flooded river already has cut all railways and highways in the valley as far south as the international line. None could predict how much higher the river would rise. This already was the greatest flood in Canada's modern history.

Winnipeg already is menaced by the possibility of disrupted utilities and transportation services. Refugees pouring in from the hard-hit suburban areas, doubling the population in some Winnipeg districts, pose still another threat.

The Canadian Pacific railway suspended operations on its line until the flood subsides. The last train went over the line last night. Other rail lines were severed a few days ago. Highways have been cut in dozens of places.

Employment Shows Pickup

JEFFERSON CITY, May 10—(P)—Employment picked up in Missouri during March, the State Employment Security Division reported.

Director Charles A. Ricker said an estimated 1,013,100 workers had non-agricultural jobs that month—a gain of 7,800 over February. The total was 1.1 per cent less than in March, 1949.

Manufacturing employment gained 2,400 during March while non-manufacturing jobs increased by 5,400—much of it in the construction field where 2,600 jobs were added during the month.

Add 103 New Members to Sedalia C. of C.

President Tweet
Says Drive One
Of the Best Ever

The one-day Chamber of Commerce membership drive held Tuesday ended with an additional 103 memberships added to that organization, an trophies, which were small plaques with cowboy hats mounted on the were presented to the members of the winning team headed by Abe Silverman.

Mayor Herb Studer was high point man and was presented the individual award which was a larger plaque of the same type. The presentation of the awards both to Mr. Studer and to other members of the team was made by Noel Tweet, president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce.

Spring Roundup
The drive was conducted on the western idea as the Spring Roundup, and the team winning was the Circle R-Ranch. Members of the team were Abe Silverman, foreman, Mayor Herb Studer, Dan Doty, Lee Deason and Bob Wall, who is president of the newly organized Junior Chamber of Commerce. Points were given for memberships and for money turned in with the winning team having a total of 1317 points, and of that number Mayor Studer had 307 points.

Noel Tweet stated that the drive was a huge success and one of the best the Chamber of Commerce ever had. It looks encouraging for the future of Sedalia, he said.

"Everyone seemed to enjoy the drive," said Mayor Studer, "and it is encouraging to note that the people of Sedalia are taking an interest in the Chamber of Commerce." He urged all who have not become members to do so for the building of a bigger and better Sedalia.

According to John F. Zander, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, the total membership of the Chamber of Commerce now is 560 members.

At Prudential Conference

Twenty-three members of the Prudential Insurance company's district office here are attending a two-day business conference which opens in St. Louis today.

Besides Hugo M. Sparr, district manager, the sedalia group is composed of five staff managers and 17 agents. Included in this delegation are representatives from Jefferson City, Moberly, Columbia and Marshall, where the district maintains branch offices.

The St. Louis conference brings together top-level home office officials and almost 600 fieldmen from company district offices in north central states areas. Topics slated for discussion include present day sales techniques and current underwriting practices.

Valentine Howell, Prudential executive vice president will address the delegates. Talks will also be given by other home office executives and fieldmen.

Pooling Plan Is Proposed

France Advances it
As Applied to Coal and Steel

By the Associated Press

Western diplomats in London for the opening tomorrow of a Big Three foreign ministers conference today hailed France's proposal to pool Europe's coal and steel as a blueprint for peace.

Integration of Germany's economy into that of western Europe is the major problem of the forthcoming conference. Diplomats said the French proposal to pool the output of heavy industries starting with France and Germany might be a possible solution to this main cold war riddle.

There were indications the west German government would accept the proposal made by the French cabinet yesterday. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called it: "A generous step by France towards Germany."

Adenauer said the plan appeared to "create the pre-conditions for making any future conflict between France and Germany impossible."

Simultaneously Adenauer announced the west German cabinet has accepted an invitation for west Germany to enter the Council of Europe as an associate member. It would have an advisory status in the council's assembly but would not be presented on the controlling committee of foreign ministers.

Western diplomats in London for the conference of American British and French foreign ministers hailed the French and German announcements as important steps to bolster western Europe economically and politically against any Communist threat.

Has Pooling Plan

The French plan to pool coal and steel output was announced by Foreign Minister Robert Schuman in Paris 24 hours after he talked with U. S. Secretary of State Acheson. Observers said the United States was certain to approve the plan and may have done so already during the Acheson-Schuman talks.

Appoint A. L. Bohling New Postmaster

Official Notice
By Postmaster General

Atwell L. Bohling, president of Central Business College, has been appointed acting postmaster of the Sedalia post office by Postmaster General J. M. Donaldson.

Mr. Bohling was notified of his appointment in the following letter received Wednesday morning:

"Office of the Postmaster General, Washington 25, D. C. May 8, 1950

"Mr. A. L. Bohling, Sedalia, Missouri: Dear Mr. Bohling:

"Under the provisions of the Act approved June 25, 1938, you have been appointed acting postmaster at the above named office.

"It is important that you have the enclosed bond and oath executed immediately after assuming charge of the office and returned without delay to the Bureau of the First Assistant Postmaster General.

"A post office inspector will communicate with you and arrange for your installation and the transfer of the office should not be made until the inspector calls.

"Very truly yours, (Signed) J. M. Donaldson Postmaster General."

Vacancy in the office of Sedalia postmaster was caused by the recent death of Postmaster Edw. Mullaley.

Congressional representative G. H. Christopher recommended to the post office department in Washington the appointment of Mr. Bohling.

Man Trapped in Shaft Out Dead

NEW YORK, May 10—(P)—Rescuers reached Dominick Atteio today at the bottom of a caved-in well shaft where he had been imprisoned for about 26 hours. He had died five minutes before.

Atteio's body was slid out into the rescue trench where the doctor was waiting.

A hush fell over the watching crowd as Doctor Harold Berson walked slowly back along the rescue trench wiping sweat from his face and shaking his head.

Farmer Is Killed By Dynamite Blast

KIENNETT, Mo., May 10—(P)—James Rogers, a 31-year-old farmer near here, was killed yesterday when a dynamite charge he was handling exploded unexpectedly.

Rogers and a companion were blasting stumps from a road right of way when one of the charges failed to explode. Rogers went to examine the charge while the other man ran for safety, assuming Rogers also was fleeing. He turned in time to see Rogers blown into the air by the blast. Dunklin county coroner Walter Hawkins said.

The victim leaves his widow and one child.

John F. Zander Will Be Kiwanis Speaker

John F. Zander, secretary-general of the Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest speaker at Kiwanis Thursday noon at the Bothwell hotel and will take as his subject: "What Price Progress."

Acheson's Guests of King and Queen

LONDON, May 10—(P)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson met King George VI today in a private audience. Later he and Mrs. Acheson were guests of King George and Queen Elizabeth at lunch.

Gold Seekers Dig For Yellow Metal at Belle

BELLE, Mo., May 10—(P)—Spurred by an old legend, a group of believers—and some skeptics—are digging for gold on the Earl Carter farm near this community of 900 persons.

Edward Adams of the Adams Brothers Drilling company, Owensville, Mo., operating the drill, reported this morning he had encountered a rock formation different from any he has ever seen.

The Carter farm, two miles east of Belle, once was owned by the late Fritz Lehnhoff. According to the legend, Lehnhoff was sinking an artesian well and hit rock strata speckled with gold and silver at 160 feet. That was about 60 years ago.

Lehnhoff had some of the rock analyzed by a nephew in Denver, the story goes, and he reported back that it was gold, the real thing. Lehnhoff was reported to have continued his farming after saying:

"Probably nothing there. I'm not going to monkey with it."

Recently 40 persons put up $25 each to decide once and for all whether there's anything to the story. They started drilling Friday. Rain stopped their work yesterday and Monday, but the search was to be resumed today, weather permitting.

Norman Gallagher, editor of the Belle Banner, is a member of the select group. A lot of others wanted in on it but they decided to hold the group to 40, Gallagher said. Among those who promoted the venture is Chris Lehnhoff, a son of Fritz.

"Some of the oldtimers have been hearing about Fritz's gold all their lives—and they really believe we'll hit it rich," said Gallagher.

What does the editor himself think about their chances for finding gold?

"I'd say it's not probable, but it's possible," Gallagher said. "We're just having a lot of fun. But you never know."

Highest Since August

NEW YORK, May 10—(P)—Wholesale food prices as measured in the Dun and Bradstreet index this week reached the highest level since last August.

The index advanced to $.89 from $.84 a week ago and was 3.7 per cent above the year-ago level of $.86.

The figure this week was the same as that for the weeks ended Aug. 9 and 16 last year. The peak before that was $.91 on Jan. 25, 1949.

The record high posted by the index since it was started 34 years ago was $.736 on July 13, 1948.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Urge on Bill For Curb on Rail Strikes

Donnell Declares
Need Emphasized
By Walkout

WASHINGTON, May 10—(P)—Senator Donnell (R-Mo.) said today the walkout of 18,000 firemen on four major railroads "emphasizes the need" for his bill to outlaw rail strikes.

"In my opinion," Donnell said, "it indicates the fact that this bill should receive prompt consideration by Congress."

Donnell talked to reporters as a Senate Labor subcommittee resumed hearings on his measure to force compulsory arbitration of railroad and airline disputes. It would ban lockouts and strikes.

A few hours before the committee met, firemen started their strike on the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Santa Fe and Southern railroads.

Harry E. De Butts, vice president of the Southern, told the committee the strike would have a "disastrous effect on the public interest." He urged approval of the Donnell bill.

De Butts predicted the walkout would cause "untold loss of property and production" in areas served by the four lines and bring "the terror of starvation and disease to great numbers of citizens."

Also, he said, it would leave this country "almost helpless under attack of a foreign enemy."

Layoff For Thousands

De Butts said the strike, called by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, would "inevitably stop" operation of Southern's service in 13 states and result in the laying off of about 35,000 of the lines employees.

An official of the New York Central railroad told the committee Monday that his firm would have to furlough 50,000 workers if the strike developed.

C. A. Miller, vice president and general counsel of the American Short Line Railroad association also was called to testify today before the committee.

Urging support of the anti-strike measure, Miller said in a prepared statement that the union was "seeking to compel the railroads to yield to their demands for a useless second fireman x x x in the face of the fact that two separate and distinct emergency boards appointed by the president have thoroughly investigated the subject and decided that there is no merit to the demands of the union."

"If a union can call a paralyzing strike under such circumstances as these," Miller said, "then not only has the Railway Labor Act failed, but the nation has failed."

Service From Coast to Coast Crippled; Pickets At Key Points

CHICAGO, May 10—(P)—A strike of railroad firemen crippled the nation's rail network today and within a few hours mediators abandoned hope of quick settlement.

Francis A. O'Neill, chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board said "We've given up."

He added that a report on the deadlock will be submitted to Washington.

The board had tried in continuous sessions since 9 p. m. CDT last night to reach some agreement.

Asked what the next step would be, O'Neill replied: "I can not say until we make our report to Washington." He added: "We have been unable to get anywhere. For the last three or four days we have been working on a 'package' deal with the brotherhood. He declined to say what the 'package' contained."

Hit Key Systems

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, one of the five big operating unions, struck against four key systems in the nation's rail network at 6 a. m. local standard time today.

Their walkout was to enforce demands for hiring a second fireman on multiple diesel unit locomotives. The railroads, whose contention had been upheld by presidential fact finding boards, maintained this constituted "made work" and that as the second fireman would not be needed on a diesel which has no fire to tend.

The brotherhood insisted the man should be added as a "strategic" measure. Union leaders said their men were being disciplined continually for leaving the locomotive cab to tend engines in another unit of the locomotive. They claimed this meant the carriers expected one fireman to be in two places at once.

Before O'Neill mentioned the "package" deal, Roob Allie, secretary of the Michigan Association of Railroads, said he was informed all demands of the brotherhood had been settled except one for assignment of a fireman to switchers of less than 90,000 pounds.

O'Neill said no further sessions were scheduled and added: "If either side wants to resume talks they can notify me."

The New York Central, one of the struck lines, uses a fireman on such engines now. The Pennsylvania does not. Other lines (the walkout are the Southern whose operations are crippled by railway, serving the south, and the Santa Fe, a principal carrier between Chicago and the Pacific coast).

At least one other railroad was drawn into the crippling action indirectly. The Chesapeake and Ohio railway announced some cancellation of service because union members refused to run C. & O. trains on tracks shared with struck lines.

Pickets representing the 18,000 firemen on strike appeared at key points.

The firemen's brotherhood used a creeping technique in putting their strike into effect. It started at 6 a. m. in local standard time zones, the east feeling it first. An hour later firemen in the central time belt went out; an hour later those in the mountain zone.

At 6 a. m. Pacific time—or 9 a. m. in the eastern zone—the walkout extended over its full course, the nation's first major railroad strike since May, 1946.

Trips on Competing Lines

The tactic of singling out four principal carriers inconvenienced, but did not strand, the traveling public. Trains on runs at the time of the strike's zero hour continued on to their terminals.

Travelers between major terminal cities could make their trips on competing lines. Those relying on local service of the struck lines had to switch to buses or other modes of transport.

Big freight customers transferred their shipping from the struck lines to alternate systems.

In anticipation of the strike, the four railroads announced stringent service cutbacks. And, they said, further cuts in their schedules were planned.

The New York Central and the Santa Fe, two of the four roads singled out for the strike, planned to keep some main line passenger trains in operation. The other two, the Pennsylvania and the Southern railway, said no trains would be run in the strike-affected areas.

THIS TIME we'd like to tell you about something that you cannot see in this picture—something, in fact, you cannot know about from looking at someone else in a passing Buick—or from viewing a Buick on our showroom floor. It's the feel you get from a Buick in motion. You are going to find out that it is something like traveling on your own private, jet-propelled cloud—only firmer.

Maybe you know a stretch of washboard road, where you have to slow down, or bounce and jitter. Try that in a Buick and see how you keep a level, comfortable boulevard smoothness. Maybe you're always on edge to dodge dips and chuckholes. Those also lose most of their jolt when you're at the wheel of a Buick—or in the rear seat. In a few simple words—the ride of any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—is out of this world. We could give you a lot of reasons. Soft coil springs on all four wheels, for example—the firm linkage of the torque-tube drive—the distribution of weight—big soft tires on wide rims—the way Buick engines are mounted. Even Dynaflo Drive*—always silk-smooth and free of geared-drive harshness—plays its part in the marvelous Buick ride. But why simply listen to reasons? Experience is still the best teacher. Come see for yourself why the Buick ride is called "matchless"—and how little it costs to replace a jitterbuggy with one of these level-striding honeys.

Social Events

A group of relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Oehrke on Sunday, May 7, to help Mr. Oehrke celebrate his birthday anniversary.

A basket dinner was served at the noon hour and the afternoon was spent in conversation and taking pictures.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Semkin, Dennis, Kathryn and Eunice Semkin, Miss Gladys Zimmerschied, Mrs. Ephod Faulwell and Sonny, Mrs. Elsie Casdorff and Earl Boyd, all of Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Oehrke and Joyce Ann, Nadine, Patricia Ann and LaDonna June Blakesley and Charles Hopkins, of Ottumwa; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Neidergerke and sons, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Drinkard, of Fulton; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Oehrke and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Homan and family, Conrad Oehrke and Mr. and Mrs. Oehrke and son, Bobby, all of Florence.

A son, Cecil, who has employment in Stockton, Kas., was unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Roe B. Vincent, 1511 West Main street, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Olive to Mr. Louis Reine, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reine, route 5, Sedalia.

The marriage will take place on June 25 at the Reorganized Latter Saints church.

Mrs. Ford E. Allcorn, of Fort Leavenworth, Kas., entertained today with a luncheon and bathroom shower for Miss Dorothy Ann Garrett at the Palm Room of the Hotel Bothwell. Miss Garrett will be married in June to Mr. Robert T. Alexander, of St. Louis.

Guests were: Miss Dorothy Ann Garrett, Mrs. Ellis Garrett, Mrs. Thomas E. Alexander, Mrs. Bill Bodine, Miss Rae Carolyn Garrett, Miss Eleanor Oversby, Miss Mary Ann Hilderbrandt, Miss Vivian McAtee, Miss Dorothy Williams and Miss Lois Green.

Mrs. Allcorn was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Elmo Harlan.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Crouch, of Mora, were pleasantly surprised Sunday, April 30, when their family and friends held open house for them in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tier wedding cake decorated with silver leaves and beads and white roses with a silver and white ornament, symbolic of the day, on top. On either side were lighted white tapers in silver holders.

White flowers in silver baskets were used throughout the home. Mrs. Crouch was presented with a corsage of gardenias tied with silver ribbon and Mr. Crouch with a white carnation.

After taking pictures and opening gifts the honorees cut the cake with a knife used for similar occasions by the Crouch family for several generations.

Refreshments of cake, ice cream in silver May baskets, mints and coffee were served.

A special song was sung by a nephew, Larry Wayne Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Copes, the attendants at the wedding were unable to be present for the anniversary, but sent regrets and a gift.

Miss Edna G. Campbell and Mr. Roy W. Crouch were married May 1, 1925, by the Rev. A. K. Kokendoffer at Sedalia. They are the parents of two children, Kenneth E. Crouch, 914 West Fourth street and Cpl. Cecil C. Crouh, of Army Engineers, at Fort Winfield Scott, San Francisco, Calif. They have one grandson, Kieth William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crouch.

The Ladies Society of the B. of L. E. Lodge No. 225, which was to have met Thursday afternoon at 114½ East Fifth street, motored to New Franklin that day where the members were guests of the New Franklin lodge No. 12.

A chicken dinner was served at the noon hour after which they attended the meeting of lodge 12. Those making the trip were Mrs. Charley Spillers, Mrs. Russell Overfelt, Mrs. Raymond Hunt, Mrs. L. N. Yunker, Mrs. Virgil Tucker, Mrs. Jay Nicholson, Sr., Mrs. Harry Weseloh, Mrs. J. B. O'Brien, Mrs. Eddie Duell, Mrs. Chester Long, Mrs. Leland Witt, Mrs. James Doty, Mrs. Abe Brownfield, Mrs. Roy Hamey, Mrs. J. W. Murrell and Mrs. Waterfield, who is a member of lodge 12, but at the present is residing in Sedalia.

Mrs. Bud McCowan and Miss Mary Alice Dexheimer entertained with a miscellaneous shower Friday night at the home of the latter, 1608 South Missouri, in honor of Miss Ruth Miller who is to be married next month.

Miss Miller received many useful gifts. The employees of Interstate Studio where she has been employed for the past six years, also presented her with a gift.

Guests other than the honor guest were: Mrs. Bob Hopkins, Mrs. Narvil Bopp, Mrs. A. W. Buhlig, Mrs. Charles Burk, Mrs. Leo Burlette, Mrs. Howard Christie, Mrs. Kenneth Crouch, Mrs. Mac Crafton, Mrs. Al Domingue, Mrs. Harry Goosen and daughter Joyce, Mrs. Wallace Hinson, Mrs. Dorothy Huffman, Mrs. Paul Hagemeier, Mrs. O. • The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Trygve Lie Fears Collapse Of United Nations

By Drew Pearson

(The Brass Ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, today goes to Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, now on an important mission to Moscow.)

WASHINGTON, May 10—Shortly before Trygve Lie left New York on his current mission to Moscow, President Truman had announced that the world looked better — a statement which Truman reiterated last week. And Trygve Lie, talking privately to a friend immediately afterward, said:

"I am glad they (the press) did not ask me to comment on President Truman's statement yesterday that the world situation is better than in 1946!"

For the secretary-general of the United Nations thinks the world situation is in a very dangerous state — not because of an immediate threat of war but because the U. N. is threatened for its very life. This is the reason for his trip to Moscow.

"I am going to tell them," he told a friend before he left, "what do you want to do about the United Nations; we must decide now, because in another six or eight months if the deadlock is not broken, this organization will collapse."

Lie added that he thinks the Soviets recognize that their walkout has been a blunder, just as the Berlin blockade was a blunder. But Russia is a big power and it cannot extricate itself from this situation without some face-saving. Here he made a little circle with his thumb and forefinger, and peeped through it, and said:

"Some little peephole — just some little peephole."

Since then the search for the peephole has been made by Lie, the British foreign office and the French. The final result now depends on Lie's talks in Moscow.

Cornerstone Layer
Most Americans think of Trygve Lie as a stout, cornerstone-laying character, with a heavy Scandinavian accent, who does something or other at the United Nations.

This vagueness is partly Lie's fault. He has operated for four years on the conviction that the secretary-general of the U. N. should keep out of controversy. But he has changed in the last few months. Lie is now displaying some of the fire he used to display when, at 16, he became a local president of the Norwegian Labor party — or the kind of fire he displays now on a Long Island tennis court when the score is six games to six and he wants to break the deadlock.

For, in these last months of his five-year term as secretary-general, Lie is determined to break the deadlock of the cold war. He is throwing his old caution to the winds. He doesn't care any more whether he has the support of the state department.

Actually, he has lost it. Inside fact is that the state department tried to sidetrack his mission to Moscow.

As a European, and especially as ex-premier of a country with a long border adjoining Russia, Lie is fearfully worried. He thinks the policy on both sides — names-calling and arms-building — will lead to an eye-for-an-eye and a bomb-for-a-bomb. And his strategy is to try to knock together the heads of what European delegates call "Les Deux Grands"—"The Two Bigs."

For a long time he has been working behind the scenes with the skill of the best Washington lobbyist. On day, he whisks the Cuban delegate off to lunch at the Lies' Long Island home. Next day he makes a private appointment to meet a British or French delegate at the Manhattan headquarters of U. N. — where talks are more unobserved than at or near Lake Success.

And the next day, a Polish or Ukrainian delegate for dinner — possibly mixing them with some of the New York City officials in talk about the headquarters building.

Guests who meet Lie in his own home, or at a private dinner, find him a great surprise. He is not the fence-sitting diplomat he seems to be in public. He talks with candor. He even expresses vigorous opinions about such things as "the dark combination of votes" that forced through the internationalization of Jerusalem.

Lie said at the time that he had never seen such a combination — of Catholics, Communists and Arabs — which rammed through a decision that he regarded as unworkable. He said he decided this after having talked with the U. N. military expert, Gen. William Riley, who, though himself a Catholic, reported that it would be impossible to make Jerusalem international without force.

Started as Office Boy
Now 53 years old, the secretary-general of the United Nations was born in Oslo, the son of a carpenter. His first job was as an office boy in the headquarters of the Norwegian Labor party. At 16 he became president of a local labor branch, and at 23 he was one of the leaders of the party. At the outbreak of the war, Lie was minister of commerce in the Norwegian government and by February, 1941, was appointed minister of foreign affairs, then in exile in London.

Lie's catapult into U. N. affairs came during the San Francisco conference which founded the United Nations, where he served as chairman of the commission which drafted the charter of the security council.

At that time — and since — he has sometimes sided against the United States and Great Britain. In fact, during the early U. N. days, he was nominated by Ambassador Gromyko to be the first president of the general assembly. Now his influence is emphatically against his onetime supporters.

In New York Lie gets along well with Mayor O'Dwyer and Bob Moses, with whom he confers every two weeks or so regarding the great international city on the East River of Manhattan, which the Rockefellers are erecting as a symbol of international peace.

This, of course, has put him in touch with various New York civic leaders such as Tom Watson of International Business Machines, Winthrop Aldrich of the Chase National bank, and John W. Davis, former Democratic candidate for president, who have come to regard Lie almost as a fellow New Yorker.

Lie And McCarthy
Last December, Lie told a friend that he thought the cold war could be ended by a high-level conference between Truman, Stalin, Attlee and Bidault. But when he was urged to see President Truman about such a meeting, Lie smiled.

"The state department wouldn't like it," he said, "and they always keep a good watch on me."

In this, Lie has one remotely common interest with Senator McCarthy. While he doesn't believe there are Communists in the state department, he wonders why, when President Truman has made such a clean sweep of his domestic cabinet family, he has never brought much change to the state department. Lie apparently feels that it needs a change.

At any rate, the conference that Lie proposed last December is now taking place in part — one segment meeting in London under the big three, the other between Lie and the Kremlin in Moscow. In effect, Lie is now serving as an ambassador of good will between the two.

President's Tour Will Be Just Warm-up For November Fight

By Peter Edson
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 10 — President Harry S. Truman has taken to the western road under somewhat confused political circumstances. It is scheduled as a non-political junket. But the President of the United States can't do anything without its having some political significance.

After six years in office, the President and his Fair Deal program have gotten nowhere. The record of the 81st Congress is not good. Though it still has 60 or 90 days to go, the Senate is headed for another FEPC filibuster in which little will be accomplished.

Sen. Claude Pepper has been defeated in the Florida primary. Sen. Lister Hill won renomination easily in Alabama, but the Dixiecrats are still a major administration annoyance. Finally, ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen has characterized Truman as "a clever politician, but the worst President!" — a phrase that may stick and may hurt.

To all these bad political omens, there is a Democratic answer. Blame for lack of progress on the President's program in Congress is put upon the Southern Democrats who have teamed up with the Republicans to defeat or stymie many administration measures.

Some of the President's political advisers are coaching him to come out swinging against the Dixiecrats on his present tour. The Northern Democrats licked the Dixiecrats at Philadelphia in 1948, but they haven't stayed licked. It may take another Philadelphia showdown, say the regulars, to give them the party control they want.

Pepper Defeat Analyzed
Democratic spokesmen claim that Senator Pepper's defeat in the Florida primary was no great setback for President Truman. They recall now — though no mention was made of it during the campaign — that Pepper was against Truman at Philadelphia. First Pepper made a number of pro-Eisenhower statements. Then for about 24 hours, Pepper was himself a candidate against Truman.

Senator Pepper was never entirely forgiven for this rebellion, even though he did later endorse the Fair Deal. But if Representative Smathers, who defeated Pepper, continues his anti-Truman primary campaign line, it is fairly obvious that the administration would have preferred to see Pepper win.

What hurts the Truman administration worse than the Pepper defeat, however, is the strong showing made by the Dixiecrats in their fight to hold control of the Alabama political machine's executive committee. The Truman administration is powerless as long as such opposition exists.

Governor Stassen's crack at the President is taken by Democrats in Washington as merely an indication that Stassen, who now heads University of Pennsylvania, is himself again a GOP candidate.

As for Stassen's statement that "the plans for Grand Coulee dam were prepared under President Hoover," there seems to be some difference of opinion. The record seems to indicate that the plans were prepared by Bureau of Reclamation under Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, who authorized construction as a PWA project.

Grand Coulee construction was begun in December, 1933. It got most of its congressional support from Republican Sen. Charles McNary. On that schedule, Hoover may never even have seen the plans.

Non-Political "Excuse" For Trip
The non-political reason, or excuse, for President Truman's trip west at this time is to dedicate completion of installation of the last generating unit at Grand Coulee, and to dedicate Kortes Dam, in Wyoming. The President won't actually go to Kortes Dam, which won't really be completed for another few months. The road to the dam site isn't good and bad weather might throw off the whole trip schedule. So the President will do his dedicating at Casper, Wyo., 80 miles away. He can of course draw a bigger crowd there.

The President makes this dam trip at the invitation of Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman. At Casper, the President will be able to get in

Distant Star

BY HERMINA BLACK

AT last Clemency went back into the house. She had reached the bottom of the stairs leading to the nursery when she became aware of someone descending. Looking up, she saw Piers.

"Clemency?"

As he ran down there was nothing to be done except to stand and wait for him, but as he would have taken her hands she drew back.

He said: "I have been wanting to see you all day. After I brought the doctor back I had to go out again. I only returned half an hour ago. My dear love, you look worn out. This is all too dreadful. They've got a night nurse, haven't they?"

She nodded. It was incredible that he should behave as if nothing except Baba's illness had happened to disturb their relationship; and yet at the sight of him in the strangest way the anger and bitterness which had underlain her pain seemed to have died, leaving only that searing ache in her heart, and a deepening wonder that anything in Syria's half-confession could ever have been true.

"Come and talk to me for a few minutes," Piers urged. "I know that at this stage it may seem selfish to think of our own affairs, but there are still some things which must be said between us."

"Not now!" she exclaimed. "Afterwards perhaps."

"Very well, later," he conceded. "As long as you don't forget that we are important." This time he managed to gain possession of her hands, and then as he looked down at them he asked sharply: "Where is your ring?"

"Upstairs." She knew abruptly that she could not discuss it now. She pulled herself free. "I must get back to Baba," she said. "We can't talk now, and it's useless anyway."

Then she ran upstairs. Watching her go, there was a puzzled pain in his eyes. It was only when he was back in his study that he wondered suddenly if he should have listened to Syria. Had it been too late for him not to explain last night? And yet how difficult it would have been. He had never been able to make Jon believe—

Knowing what Syria had twice done to him, he should have realized the possibility of the final blow. However ruthless they are capable of being, and however difficult it may be for the mere surface observer to believe, there is, in men like Piers Amberley, an almost childlike streak of trustfulness, born from their own complete integrity. He told himself now that when all this misery of the child's illness was over, Clemency would listen to him.

BUT in the next days there could be no thought of personal things, however important.

Dr. Rigaud had sent an urgent call to a specialist in Algiers—a man renowned for his brilliant handling of chest and lung complaints, and the consultant promised to leave immediately for the oasis.

With his arrival the real fight began.

Jon still paced outside in the passage or came into the day nursery to look through the open communicating door. The specialist had brought a nurse from his own clinic with him, but Sister Therese, who seemed to need no rest in her off-duty times, was constantly there. But whenever Baba emerged from that terrifying stupor it was Clemency she wanted—Clemency alone who could quieten her, hold her gently down in the bed from which in frightened delirium she tried to struggle.

Syria had gone entirely to pieces and in her own room, the long suffering Justine had to cope with her.

The dreaded hour of the crisis drew near. Clemency had slept little during the night, and doing everything she was asked to with flawless efficiency she still moved round in a haze of misery and semi-exhaustion.

Two or three times she was aware that Piers was near—aware, too, of the strange comfort his presence brought, even though they did not exchange a word. Towards evening she went downstairs to ask Ahmed for something the doctor wanted, and when she returned she found Syria crouching in a chair in the day nursery. For once the perfection of her make-up had been neglected, and she looked worn and haggard. As Clemency passed she sobbed.

"I can't bear it," Syria covered her face. "I never knew I could—feel like this. I didn't want her—I hated having her. And I told you I'm not the maternal type. But she's so pretty—and I can't bear to lose her. I'll be different—I promise I'll be better to her, love her more—if only she lives."

SOMEHOW Clemency could not bring herself to make any reply. It was not anything Syria had done to her personally which froze the pity in her heart. There was a hard gloss of selfishness on everything about the other which made it more tragic that she should have wrought so much mischief and unhappiness.

As she re-entered the other room the nurse and the two doctors were gathered about the bed. Sister Therese stood a little apart, silently telling her beads. Conscious of the nun's serene spirituality, which she translated into such practical scientific help when it was needed, Clemency thought involuntarily: It is that which we need above everything—faith and work together; and she passed on to join the others, strangely comforted.

The specialist was holding one of Baba's small, inert wrists between his fingers. After a moment he put it gently down.

Clemency looked at him, fear almost choking her. Then: "Oh, no!" she whispered.

The doctor passed a hand wearily over his forehead. "I think she should be all right now," he said. "She is sleeping quite naturally."

a plug for the Missouri Valley development. At Grand Coulee he can get in a plug for Columbia Valley Authority.

Any political talks the President makes at while stops in between and on the way back are so much additional gravy. And the fact that the tour winds up at Chicago with a big speech climaxing a three-day Democratic national committee and cabinet rally makes the whole enterprise a political underlarking. Or at least it opens the 1950 season by tossing out the first hats.

The President won't get really politically hot, however, until along about September. In the two months before the November elections, he is expected to hit many close contest states. The purpose, of course, is to try to influence election of an 82nd Congress which will be more to his liking than the Eighty-Worst.

Hard to Deny Slave Labor Is Heart of Soviet Economy

By Bruce Blossat

Reliable informants have been telling the free nations for years that Russia has a slave labor force of 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 people. But not until now have we had evidence of the key role these workers play in the total Russian economy.

Miss Toni Sender of the American Federation of Labor has given the United Nations photostatic copies of documents indicating that the Soviet secret police, MVD, manages slave labor projects basic to Russian planning. The police actually operate the biggest and cheapest economic agency in the nation.

Slave workers turn out a tenth of all Soviet furniture and kitchenware, an eighth of all timber produced, 40 per cent of the chrome, 75 per cent of the gold, 14 per cent of all major construction.

They build and maintain all paved roads, all rail lines through isolated regions (which are plentiful in the Soviet Union). They mine uranium for atomic use, and build and operate all atomic developments.

In numerous other industries, forced labor accounts for from 10 to 50 per cent of total Soviet output.

Russia has, of course, acknowledged that it has a "controlled" labor force. But it insists these workers are "criminals" and describes the places where they live as "corrective camps."

Russia must, then, be swarming with millions of criminals. For no small force could accomplish what MVD's slaves have done. One suspects that their two chief crimes are in opposing Russian Communist leaders and simply being alive. The MVD camps often seem designed to "correct" both these annoying habits.

Miss Sender's documentary evidence means this: No longer can anyone fairly dismiss Russian forced labor as an unfortunate sideline in an otherwise progressive economic system, as a lot of Soviet apologists have tried to do. Slave labor is clearly the very heart and substance of the Russian economy.

Where does this leave the glorious dream of Russian communism, with its promises of fair treatment and equality for all?

It seems incredible that any American, however unlucky his own lot, could look with hope toward a country whose leaders have put a tenth of their 200,000,000 people in chains. As practiced in the Soviet Union, communism is a doctrine not of equality but of servility.

Acts 5:40—42; Phil. 1:12—19; I Pet. 4:14
FLEE FORWARD!

Yesterday we saw the possibility of using our handicaps. Today we are going to see them as spurs that drive us forward. Jesus told His disciples that when the people turned them out of one village, they were to "flee to the next." In other words, if you have to flee, flee forward—to the next opportunity on your list. Some flee backward; but the Christian, when he flees, always flees forward. (1) If you have the impulse to flee, then flee forward. All of us sometimes feel like running away. We differ only in our manner of running—some flee forward, and some flee backward.

Not having a college education made Rabindranath Tagore, India's great poet, the greatest literary figure of India. He fled from the lack of a college education—forward! He could have drawn back and bemoaned his inferior education; instead he turned that lack into a spur, became superior in himself, and founded a new type of educational institution.

Once I was sitting in the back seat of a car—the kind of car that has a sliding seat in front. The man who was driving called to his wife in the back seat and said, "Please kick me forward, dear!" Life is bound to kick you, for all get knocks—some more, some less; the important thing is the direction in which you are kicked. Make life kick you forward!

A young woman told me that when I was talking to an audience about mental states of fear and resentments producing stomach disorders, she blushed, for she felt that I was talking personally to her! She had not accomplished as much as she was capable of doing in her teaching of voice, and so lost her own voice to give her an excuse for her failure. The trouble was not in her vocal chords, but in her defeatist mentality. She encountered this difficulty in accomplishment, and fled backward—backward into subterfuges and excuses. She should have taken the obstacle and turned it into opportunity—her failure into fruitfulness.

My Father and my God, I see that my life will be made or broken at the place where I meet and deal with my obstacles. Help me not to run away from them, but to run toward them, to tackle and overcome them. Help me to take the impulse to flee and compel it to make me flee forward. In His name. Amen.

The Doctor Says— Anemia Warns That Something Is Out of Order in the Body

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The blood contains small round disks called red blood cells, or erythrocytes. Normally, there are about five million of these cells in each cubic millimeter of blood. (There are more than 16,000 cubic millimeters in a cubic inch.) These cells contain oxygen and a red coloring matter—hemoglobin—which are indispensable to life. When there are too few red blood cells or not enough hemoglobin the condition is called "anemia."

Anemia is not a single disease. Many different things can cause a lack of red blood cells or hemoglobin. One form is called pernicious anemia, or primary anemia. The cause of this condition is not known, though the discovery of the value of liver—and more recently Vitamin B 12—has changed it from a disease which used to be fatal into one which can be successfully treated in almost all cases.

With the exception of pernicious anemia, the problem boils down to finding out what has caused the lack of red cells or hemoglobin, or both. One of the most simple and yet a very frequent cause is bleeding from somewhere in the body. If a person loses more blood than the system can replace, anemia develops. If this is sudden, as from a wound, the difficulty can be remedied promptly by stopping the hemorrhage and giving a blood transfusion. If hemorrhage is slow, it is necessary to find where the bleeding comes from and to stop it if possible. If this kind of anemia is severe, it may be necessary to give transfusions or take other measures, including the use of iron preparations, iron being an important part of hemoglobin.

One kind of anemia comes most commonly in women between 30 and 50 years of age. The cause of this anemia is a deficiency of iron due to several things, probably including defective diet and poor absorption due to disturbance of the stomach and intestine. This causes a feeling of weakness, shortness of breath, nervous disturbances, dry hair, sore tongue and paleness. Fortunately once it has been identified it can be successfully treated by giving iron.

Bone Marrow Difficulty
Anemia may result from the failure of the organs which make the blood to meet the needs of the body. This difficulty lies principally in the bone marrow and is much like the anemia which comes from certain poisons.

Anemia is usually the reflection of something seriously wrong with the body. No one with severe anemia can feel well or can be normally energetic. The cause should be tracked down and proper treatment employed.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Dixie Backs Up Her Hubby Bing

HOLLYWOOD, May 10—(P)—Dixie Lee Crosby, once a singer herself, lifted her voice Tuesday to back crooner husband Bing's denial of a rift in their marriage, the Los Angeles Herald-Express reports.

"If Bing says there is nothing to it, there is nothing to it," the newspaper quoted Dixie as saying by telephone from Carmel, Calif. "If anybody thinks differently they can take it from there."

(The newspaper said its reporter talked with Mrs. Crosby after she called in answer to his request.

(In Carmel, a housekeeper insisted that Mrs. Crosby is away for a week and said she—the housekeeper—talked with the Herald-Express reporter).

The singer's attorney, John O'Melveney, said yesterday "there are some strained relations" in the 20-year marriage, and brother Larry Crosby added: "We hope it is a separation and not a divorce."

Crosby, from Paris, said that he had received a letter from his wife a few days ago and "everything was all right then." Dixie was quoted as saying she had been hearing regularly from Bing since he went to Europe several weeks ago.

She admitted that she and Bing had employed attorneys to aid them work out certain financial matters, including trust funds for their four sons.

"Whenever you get money, there are problems," she explained. "A couple of months ago we were doing some juggling around. We were trying to separate money. I suppose that's how it all started."

"Say," she added, "Many knew us when we didn't have a quarter. Sometimes I wish it were that way again, because that's as far as my arithmetic goes. I still can't divide 25 cents."

There have been rumors in recent years that their marriage was not running smoothly, but there never has been an outright break.

Allison Hasn't Seen President

ST. JOSEPH, May 10—(P)—State Senator Emory Allison, here in behalf of his campaign for the Democratic U. S. senatorial nomination, said Tuesday he has not seen his principal supporter — President Truman — since July, 1948.

Allison said he last saw him at the Philadelphia National Convention that month, but he had talked to the president by telephone several times since then.

He added that he expects to see the President in St. Louis next month at the 35th Division reunion.

He said he has no intention of asking the President to speak in his behalf in Missouri before the primary.

Allison pointed out that a month before the Binaggio-Gargotta slayings in Kansas City he had publicly declared himself as favoring the use of all possible federal power to suppress syndicated crime.

He said he believes now, as he believed then, that every possible federal agency should be utilized in the fight to drive out crime.

"I never knew Charles Binaggio and Charles Gargotta. I never met them," he said.

Republican Committeeman Lose Job by a Landslide

CLEVELAND, May 10 — (P) — Lester Fisher of Brecksville was elected Republican precinct committeeman last week. But he lost the job by a landslide. After Fisher filed his petition for the office his house was undermined by a landslide and was moved to Independence. Republican headquarters today named a Brecksville man to replace Fisher.

Fifteen years ago there was only one Sherlock Holmes society in the United States—the Baker Street Irregulars, and it languished for several years. Now almost every city in the land has a scion society. A number produce yearly books of Sherlock Holmes essays.

Crash Victim Awaits Aid

Twelve-year-old Maurice Parent awaits arrival of ambulance following accident at Methuen, Mass., caused when an automobile crashed into the bicycle he was riding. Another boy, also riding on the bike, was killed in the crash. Parent was critically injured. An unidentified passing motorist is shown seeking to comfort the boy. (AP Wirephoto)

Mr. Fly of Kansas Plays His Hunches

MANHATTAN, Kas., May 10—(P)—During a high wind last year Albert M. Fly was afraid of a large tree near his driveway, so he put his car in the garage.

Next morning he found the tree had blown over—across the spot his car had been.

Monday night Fly left his car in the driveway. Waking this morning, he found the wind had wrecked his garage.

RELIEF FOR CONSTIPATION SUFFERERS

Uni-Lax Is The Answer

Sufferers can now hope for relief from the use of harsh laxatives through the use of this new drug, sodium carboxymethylcellulose, the active ingredient of Uni-Lax. Uni-Lax is a bulking substance which is taken easily in tablet form.

Drop a tablet in a glass of lukewarm water. Leave it there overnight and see what happens. The same thing happens in the digestive tract. It forms a suspension of many, many little translucent gelatinous particles. It goes through most of the digestive tract unchanged, but turns to a smooth gel about the time it reaches the colon, where the laxative action is desired.

Recent Tests Prove

In recent tests conducted at a world famous clinic, it was reported that sodium carboxymethylcellulose, the active ingredient of Uni-Lax will help relieve constipation. It can also do much to repair the harm done by harsh laxatives.

In testing this new drug, patients were used who had been taking (to use their expression) "barrels of laxatives". One elderly woman had been taking daily doses as long as she could remember. A girl of 19 years, had been taking laxatives since early childhood. Sodium carboxymethylcellulose helped relieve their condition.

In one test, an elderly man complained of lifelong constipation. After taking the new drug for a week, she was having the most satisfactory bowel function she could remember.

100 Tablets — Only $1.50

SEDALIA DRUG CO.— Sedalia, Mo.

ABNORMAL COLON, showing Atonic Constipation.

Relieve Constipation

Other laxatives usually produce thin watery stools and harsh fast acting bowel movements which give only temporary relief. Uni-Lax, when taken according to directions, produces a soft, well-formed easily passed stool. It's bulk producing characteristics, stimulates and encourages establishment of bowel tone and rhythm.

100% GUARANTEED

Delay in bowel movement can cause you discomfort, worry and indigestion. If you are a sufferer of constipation, go to your drug store and get a bottle of UNI-LAX. You owe it to yourself to start using it today. Don't wait until you have developed a dependence on harsh laxatives. Use the tablets as directed. If you are not completely satisfied, return the bottle to us and we will cheerfully refund your money. Ask for "Uni-Lax, in the blue bottle".

Injured WAC Sergeant Regains Consciousness

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kas., May 10 — (P) — WAC Sergeant Ellen Drommond regained consciousness for the first time since she was struck by a car April 30 on a highway near Platte City, Mo.

Public information officials said she began stirring yesterday and today was out of her coma and improving.

Sgt. Drommond, of Haigler, Neb. was struck south of Platte City as she stood beside her car. She had been halted by another motorist who thought she might have picked up something he dropped from his light truck.

The driver of the car which struck her, 21-year-old George Vernassie of Kansas City, is free under $2000 bond to appear before Platte county magistrate Kinzea Cox on a felony charge of leaving the scene of an accident. He was arrested by Missouri Highway Patrolmen in St. Joseph after the accident.

Angel Falls, in Venezuela, drops 3,212 feet, 15 times farther than Niagara Falls.

OBITUARIES

Edward G. Marsh

Edward G. Marsh, of Sweet Springs, died unexpectedly last Saturday afternoon. He had been planning a fishing trip with his son, Edward Lee, and had everything in readiness for the trip when he suffered an attack of pulmonary edema, and he died soon afterward. He was an active member of the Lions club, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, a member of the board of directors of the Sweet Springs conservation club, and a member of the Flemington Baptist church. He was the son of the late Charles and Ida Marsh and was born August 28, 1906 at Flemington. He has lived in and around Sweet Springs for nine years.

On June 23, 1923 he was united in marriage to Miss Mildred Crawford. To this union were born three children, Edward Lee of Sweet Springs, Willa Mae and Marilyn of the home. Besides his wife and three children, he is survived by two grandchildren, Melody and Robin Lee Marsh, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Marsh, two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Locke of Springfield and Mrs. Bess Fellers of Weablateau, one brother, Frank Marsh of Weablateau, several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Baptist church. The Reverend C. A. McClure, pastor of the church officiated with the Reverend James Wright of Flemington, assisting. A quartet, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. Joy Payne and Edwin Akeman sang, "Near to the Heart of God," "Does Jesus Care" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. John R. Blythe.

Pallbearers were P. J. Allen, Clarence Trautman, Frank Farmer, Clyde Hartman, Henry Haese-meyer and Glenn Solomon.

Burial was in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Frances Grace

Mrs. Mary Frances Grace, 77 years of age, died at her home in Warsaw after an illness of two months. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Taylor Harvey, and was born June 3, 1872 in Wisdom. She has lived in Warsaw with her son, Joe, for several years.

She is survived by three sons, Taylor Grace of Sweet Springs, Joe Grace of Warsaw, Edard Grace of the state of Iowa, four brothers, William, Thomas, Joe, and Ike Harvey, one sister, Miss Osa Harvey, and one grandson, Joseph Derwin Harvey.

Funeral services will be at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Warsaw Baptist church.

Burial will be at Riverside cemetery.

The body is at the Reser funeral home in Warsaw until the funeral hour.

Joseph Worthley

Joseph Worthley, aged 81 years, died Tuesday night at 11:20 o'clock at the home of his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Springer of Tipton. He became ill about 10 minutes before his death, attributed to a heart ailment. Mr. Worthley, who made his home with his son, Charles, of Florence, was visiting in Tipton.

He was a native of Monticau county and was married to Minnie Witzke, who preceded him in death three years ago. Eleven children were born of this marriage, three dying in infancy.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. Sara Stratton of Smithville; Mrs. Opal Kerts of the state of Kansas; Robert and John Worthley of Kansas City, Gilbert Worthley of Sedalia; Will Worthley of Harrisonville and Charles and George Worthley of Florence. A number of grandchildren and

Settlement of $13,500 in Suit

A settlement of $13,500 was affected on a damage suit of Frank Kabler against the Missouri Pacific railroad company.

The settlement arose over personal injuries Kabler received on the morning of November 18, 1949, at which time five other men were killed instantly and another fatally injured when a jeep in which they were riding to work, was struck by the second section of passenger train No. 9 of the Missouri Pacific.

Kabler is one of two survivors of eight men who were riding in the jeep.

Henry C. Salveter was the attorney, who represented the plaintiff, Kabler.

Activities In The County Court

Tuesday the court subscribed to ten $24 memberships in the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce to be paid out of donation fund in class 6, when class 6 funds are available.

The court approved warrant No. 66 in class 6 to George Zimmerman for two old wolf scalps, for which he received a check for $20.

Woodland Hospital Notes

Rail Shares Unset Stocks

NEW YORK, May 10—(AP)—A last minute flurry of selling in railroad and radio-television issues unsettled the entire market today.

Closing prices were at the lows of the day in numerous cases.

Declines were generally under a point although they ranged to around two points or so in the radio-television group.

Rail shares did quite well in view of the strike of firemen which went into effect this morning. Stocks of the four companies affected lost an outside of 15 point, among them Santa Fe N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania R. R., and Southern Railway.

Chemicals were in demand a good part of the day, notably Allied Chemical with a jump of 8 points to 249.

Volume was around 2,000,000 shares.

Among the losers were Emerson Radio, Philco, Radio Corp., Motorola, U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker American Telephone, International Paper, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Railway, and U. S. Gypsum.

District Meet Held by Legion

Members of the American Legion and its Auxiliary attended the meeting of the Seventh District in Concordia, Mo., Sunday. Miss Helen Herder of Slater, Mo., president of the district presided over the Auxiliary meeting where interesting reports were read of the years work by each unit. The "Poppy Day" program was stressed, where-by money is realized by the sale of the "Little Red Flower" to be used for rehabilitation.

Mrs. J. B. Grotewell of St. Louis made a most instructive talk on Communism and Russia. The next district meeting was announced for July 23 at Glasgow. Following the meeting of the Auxiliary joined the Legion for refreshments served by the Concordia post and unit.

A program of two accordion numbers, three numbers by the Concordia high school male quartet, a talk by Paul Haynie of Concordia, national winner of the Legion oratorical contest and Kenneth Frieking of Concordia, state winner of the contest, J. B. Grotewell of St. Louis, department Americanism chairman, Mr. Wesley Day of Webb City, department child welfare chairman and Mr. Chas. Bacon of Marshall, department senior vice commander were the principal speakers, introduced by Erman Taylor of Blackburn, district commander.

Talks on "Color in Home" Given Club
The Shaekeford club met April 20 at the home of Mrs. E. D. Yager with an all day meeting. Mrs. George Spry and Mrs. E. D. Yager, project leaders, gave talks on "Color in the Home." A donation for the Salvation Army was taken up which amounted to $5.00. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Raymond Walker May 18.

Project of Tractor Maintenance

The second project meeting of the Prairie Ridge 4-H boys who are taking tractor maintenance was held at the Forrest Reid home April 27 in which three demonstrations were given as follows: "Changing Oil Filters" by Clinton Reid and Wilburn Hayes, Jr.; "Safe Way to Crank a Tractor" by Keven Vickrey and "Cleaning Air Cleaners" by J. D. Gregory. A talk and discussion was held regarding oil leaks. There were 10 members present and two visitors. After the meeting refreshments were served by Barbara Anne and Betty Jo Reid. The next meeting will be held at the Earl Gregory home May 29.

By A. B. WARREN
Newcastle disease is a virus infection of chickens, turkeys and other fowl. May occur from the first week throughout life of bird. It is widespread and mortality is often 90%. The symptoms are similar to bronchitis and laryngotracheitis at first. These symptoms are generally followed by a nervous or paralytic stage. Since this area is infected vaccination should be general. With the newer intra-nasal vaccines it is a simple procedure and not very expensive. We stock Lederle's and Dr. Salisbury's, also Wyeths killed virus which has some definite advantages - it is given hypodermically - eliminates the possibility of infection on remises.

Medical Society Drops Dr. Sander

MILFORD, N. H., May 10—(AP)— Hillsborough county medical society dropped Dr. Herman N. Sander last night, announcing he "no longer is a member of this society."

Dr. Lloyd L. Wells of Manchester, secretary of the society, issued this brief statement following a meeting attended by about 100 of its 175 members:

"At a meeting of the Hillsborough County Medical Society it was voted that Hermann N. Sander is no longer a member of the society."

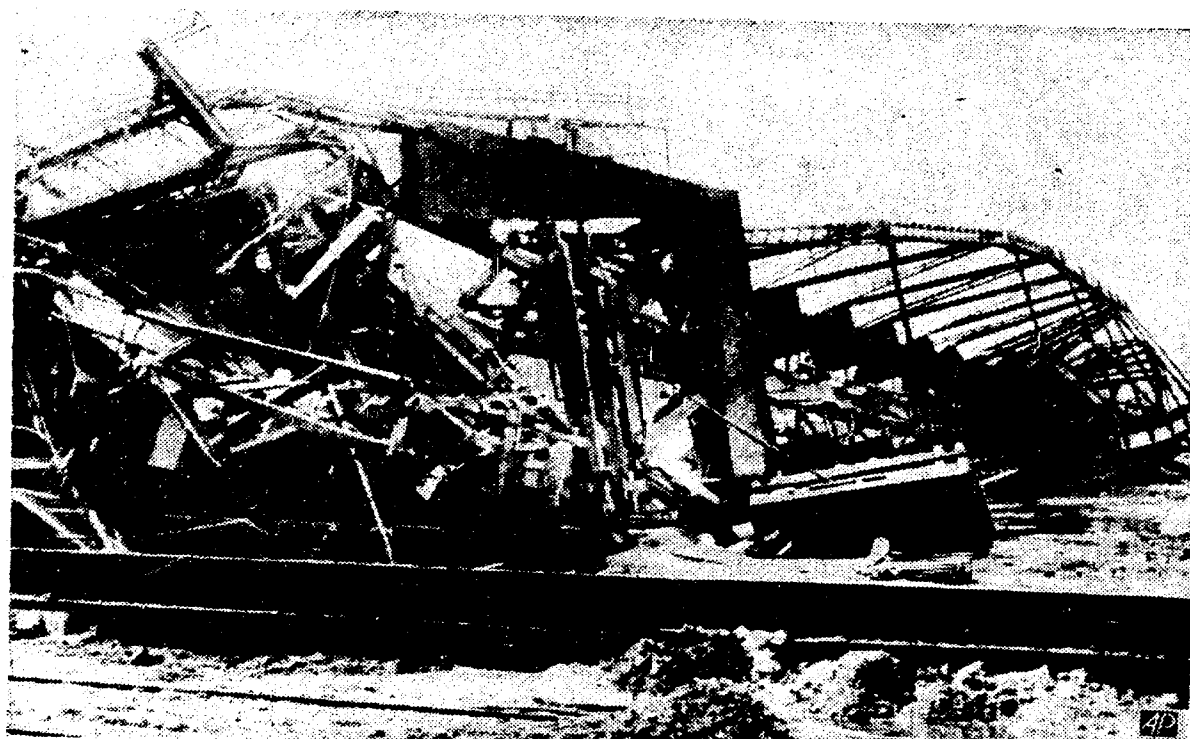

Dr. Wells refused to amplify the statement but it was believed the action was almost automatic in the wake of the state medical board's revocation last April 19 of Dr. Sander's license to practice medicine.

The 41-year-old Candia physician was acquitted last March 9 of a murder charge in the death of his cancer-stricken patient, Mrs. Abbie C. Borrott, 59, of Manchester. The state charged he killed her by injections of air but Dr. Sander's counsel argued she was already dead when the air was injected.

Dr. Sander also faces charges brought by fellow members of the county medical group. The society's three-doctor board censors has held several meetings to consider these charges, but has not announced a decision.

Tonight's meeting apparently

Wind vs. Steel

This huge steel coal bridge at the Philadelphia & Reading dock at Superior, Wis., was toppled, twisted and smashed by 88 mile-an-hour winds which struck the area May 5. This dock damage was estimated at $1,000,000. (AP Wirephoto)

was a well-kept secret. Police guarded the Masonic Hall where the doctors met. No one but society members was allowed to enter.

Dr. Sander's home was not accepting calls and the doctor was not available for comment on this latest move.

Connecticut Leads Pedestrian Safety

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)— Connecticut won the grand award among states in the American Automobile Association's 11th national pedestrian protection contest.

The states were classified in four groups in the contest, varying as to traffic conditions and other factors.

Kansas won first and Nebraska second in Group 4.

St. Joseph, Mo., tied for third with Lakewood, O., among cities with populations of 50,000 to 100,000.

Retail Grocers are Guests at a Dinner

Retail Grocers of Sedalia were special guests of Swift and Company and the Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage company at a fried chicken dinner in the pioneer room of Dan's restaurant Tuesday evening.

R. C. Miller, Swift representative of Des Moines, Iowa gave a talk on the progress of the chicken industry and of its growth and expansion in past years. He showed a film concerning the ice-packed chicken. He added several suggestions to the Retail Grocers concerning the merchandising of the product.

Millions Not in Religious Group

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)— The president of the Military Chaplains' Association said today that approximately 50,000,000 Americans who believe in God "are not affiliated with any religious group."

In a speech prepared for the opening of the association's annual convention, the Rev. Fred C. Reynolds appealed to "these non-church, non-synagogue members" to join "the religious group that most nearly harmonizes with their personal convictions x x x in an effort to strengthen the forces of faith and morality of the nation."

"For unless these forces are strengthened," the chaplain said, "democracy, freedom, peace and prosperity are doomed."

ANSWERS TO "BALD" QUESTIONS!

- If you believe baldness is due to heredity, you're 100% wrong!
- If you believe that baldness is due to age, you're 99% wrong!
- If you believe that baldness cannot be prevented, you're 98% wrong!

*See If You Can Answer These "Bald" Questions!

- Do you believe baldness is due to heredity?
- Do you believe baldness is due to age?
- Do you believe baldness cannot be prevented?

These are just a few popular misconceptions of the "bald" age. Hair can be re-grown by repeated HAIR EXPERTS HOME treatment—a fact that's been proven by leading HAIR EXPERTS—Trichologists—for many years. In most cases of thinning hair or baldness, there is a definite scalp disorder that's blocking the growth of normal healthy hair.

RESULTS QUICKER

You'll quickly notice results from HAIR EXPERTS treatment in most cases, just a few weeks are necessary to cleanse the scalp of all disorders and start a thick growth of hair, kill the bacteria and correct disorder.

LEARN FACTS

Learn the facts of baldness from your HAIR EXPERT Trichologist. You will not be obligated or embarrassed in any way. And if you decide to take HAIR EXPERTS Home Treatment, you'll find the fee very reasonable.

QUADS PERK UP SLEEPY EYE. MINNESOTA—Three tiny girls and one boy, born to farm couple, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seifer, have brought the drowsy little town of Sleepy Eye, Minn., just about the most excitement it ever had. In Sleepy Eye's municipal hospital, above, nurse Mrs. Thomas Yetter looks over the quads, who are "doing nicely." The father, a former athlete and sandlot baseball manager, said the addition of four to their previous six "sure creates some problems." He offered $10 to anyone who suggests the names used for the four, and said, "It looks like I'll have to do a little more farming and play a little less baseball."

COME RIGHT IN.

THANK YOU. WE CAN ONLY TARRY A SHORT WHILE.

CISSY HAS TALKED SO MUCH ABOUT YOUR SON DAVID, AND HIS PARENTS AS WELL, WE ARE ALWAYS EAGER TO MAKE NEW ACQUAINTANCES.

UNH!

AREN'T WE, JONATHAN?

JET-BORNE "WING" TAKES WING—The newest of the Air Force's jet planes, the Northrup Flying Wing photo-reconnaissance bomber, roars off the runway at Hawthorne, Calif., for its maiden flight to Edwards Air Force base, Muroc, Calif. First of the big "wings" equipped for full tactical operation, the plane combines long range and high-altitude performance. It has six turbo-jet engines, four within the wing and two suspended in pods.

WORKING TO WINDWARD—International One Design Sea Horse (left), sailed by S. G. Barton, of Larchmont, N. Y., and Mrs. Magee, skippered by Mac Paschal, of Bermuda took series on windward leg of one of Amorita Cup race series on Great Sound, Bermuda. Bermuda took series.

THE JUDGE STEPS OUT—Judge Roy Bean steps impatiently out of his special airplane at Chicago, having completed an 8000-mile air tour of 30 states. The Judge is a 1200-pound Hereford steer that won grand championship honors and sold for $11.50 a pound at the 1949 International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago. With the prize steer are United Air Lines pilot, Captain R. E. Parcel, R. J. McLaughlin and handler Henry Gilgulan.

Life With the Tax Gremlins: 9

Editor's Note "Life With the Tax Gremlins" is a 12-part thumbnail story of the nation's complicated tax structure. The characters Uncle Sam, himself, his Gremlin, State and Local Tax Gremlins, and you—the taxpayers. It's from an "American Affairs" pamphlet published by the National Industrial Conference Board of New York, an independent, non-profit fact-finding institution supported by business, labor and other groups.

If what the Gremlins had already done to the family in today's cartoon were visible, the man would not have all of his pants nor the woman all of her fur coat. And if the artist had been able to get it in, the little girl might have a bag of candy, and if she had one the big Gremlin's fingers might be in it because there is a federal tax on sugar. Here as everywhere, the Gremlins come first.

"To justify spending more than our income, some persons speak of what the government is doing FOR the 'little fellow' Let me show you what the Federal Government is doing TO the 'little fellow' The United States Government is making the small man smaller every day.

"If the 'little fellow' sends a message by telephone or telegraph he pays a tax. If he travels by railroad or bus he pays a tax. If he buys an automobile, the sale price includes a tax. When he buys gasoline or oil he pays a tax. If he buys cigarettes, he pays a tax. If he goes to a football game or baseball game, he pays a tax.

Then to the movies.

If his wife buys a pocketbook or cosmetics, she pays a tax, and if his children go to a movie, they pay a tax.

"The average working man must work 47 days a year to earn the money necessary to pay his taxes to the Federal Government. This is almost one day out of every week. If the new programs now seriously proposed should be adopted he will have to pay in taxes the equivalent of his wages for an additional 20 days, making 67 days he will work each year for the government instead of for himself and his family. That is what the Federal Government is doing to the 'little fellow.' —The Hon. James F. Byrnes.

Lucas Resents Kem's Vote Fraud Remark

Kem Denied Remarks
Declaring Lucas Had
"Misquoted Me"

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—An angry row about Kansas City vote fraud charges was set off in the Senate Tuesday by President Truman's reference in a western speech to the Teapot Dome scandal.

Breaks Into Speech

Senator Kem (R-Mo.) broke in to a speech by Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) to ask if Lucas knew that "in every campaign in which Harry Truman has been elected in Missouri there is strong evidence that there was fraud in the balloting."

"I resent that," Lucas shouted back, accusing Kem of saying that in 1948 President Truman carried Missouri "because of fraud in the ballot box."

Kem denied it, saying Lucas had "misquoted me," and tried to get the floor on a point of personal privilege to answer. He said he never claimed Truman victories were the actual result of fraud.

(Presidential Press Secretary Charles Ross told reporters aboard Mr. Truman's special train in Wyoming that the President had no comment on Kem's charges).

In the resulting yelling, Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) bobbed up to demand "regular order"—which is a method of getting the chair to stop debate.

Senator Stennis (D-Miss), who was presiding, ruled that Lucas had the floor and should go on.

Lucas, resuming his speech, said with ironic reference to Kem: "That's what you call a gentleman."

Kem "Don't Know Rules"
He said the Missourian had been in the senate four years and did not "even know the rules."

He told Kem to "Sit down" and

CLERICAL HOBBY—
The Rev. Carl Koer, of Milwaukee's Immanuel Lutheran Church, uses a magnifying glass to work on his model railroad, which took a year to build.

added that he would not yield again.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) started it all quietly enough with a speech replying to Mr. Truman's remarks on the oil scandals of the Harding administration.

He recalled the nomination of Edwin Pauley, California oil man, to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and the testimony of former Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes that Pauley had said he could get $300,000 in campaign contributions from California oil interests if the government would not file suit for tidelands oil lands.

Lucas, starting a Democratic reply, predicted that the President will return from his western trip more popular with the people than ever.

His quarrel with Kem arose after he had commented that as candidate for senator, vice president and president Mr. Truman "never lost Missouri in any campaign he's made."

He said Kem had been going about the state since 1946 shouting charges about vote frauds and the Pendergast machine but commented that in 1948 Mr. Truman carried Missouri by a quarter million votes.

After Kem started breaking in on him, Lucas suggested that Missouri voters know more about conditions there than their senator because they had "always reelected Harry Truman." He said the Missouri opinion is that the President was not "connected in any way" with any frauds that may have taken place.

Protect your crops with HAIL INSURANCE

Year after year hail destroys more Missouri crops than any other hazard. Why let a single hail storm take the profit out of your crop. It might mean financial disaster for you.

In this Missouri farmer-owned and controlled firm you pay only $1 at the time you insure, and an assessment of not more than $25 for each $1000 of insurance on grain crops. You decide the value of your crops at the time you insure. Your claim is paid on the basis of the value you set on your crop. You may choose when loss payment is to be made.

Assessments limited to 2 1/2% on grain crops, 3 1/4% on cotton and 6% on tobacco. No fruit or truck crops insured.
